Reds Free U.S. Civilian, Italian Bishop; Peron Claims Only Minor Opposition

MAY HAVE BEEN ASKED TO RESIGN—Circles in close contact with the Argentine Army said Sept. 16, unnamed officials in the Army had called upon President Juan Peron, above, to resign. There was no official confirmation. Earlier government announcements reported armed rebellion at three key centers in the interior of the country had been crushed "rapidly." Moroccan Crisis Talks Begin

Settlement Sought Before UN Parley

Paris, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gen. Pierre Boyer De Latour, French resident general of Morocco, flew in from Rabat today and began a series of conferences with government officials on the delayed settlement of the Moroccan crisis.

The general first visited Pierre July, minister of Tunisian and Moroccan affairs.

IT WAS EXPECTED that Boyer De Latour would give the colonists' views on the working out of Premier Edgar Faure's plan to give more independence to Moroccans.

The French want to get a Moroccan settlement before the United Nations General Assembly meets three days from now. The Arab nations are pressing for UN debate on north African problems.

De Latour left for Paris after a last-minute series of talks with the entourage of aging Sultan Mohammed Moulay Ben Arafa, whose delayed departure has been holding up reforms agreed to between the French and Moroccan Nationalists.

THE SULTAN opened his guarded palace to a stream of followers yesterday, touching off speculation that he was either preparing to leave or getting ready for a fight. The lat-

Car Driver Who Killed 4 Girls Guilty

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—A State Supreme Court jury has found Emil A. Decina, driver of the car which last March 14 jumped a curb and killed four small schoolgirls, guilty of criminal negligence.

The all-male jury returned last night shortly after 11 p. m. after more than 12 hours of deliberation. The charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in jail or a $1,000 fine, or both. Justice Lee L. Ottaway set Sept. 30 for sentencing.

AS THE JURY filed in, Decina, slight and nervous, got slowly to his feet. He strained

Peiping Charges U.S. Obstructs Repatriation

Tokyo, Sept. 17 (AP)—Red China's Peiping radio today accused the United States of obstructing the Geneva agreement on repatriation of civilians by both countries.

The Communist accusation was based on who would invite other countries to assist in the repatriation.

The Geneva agreement, announced Sept. 10, provided that India would assist Chinese in the United States who want to return to Red China and that Great Britain would assist U. S. nationals in Red China who want to go home.

Peiping said today, however, that "the U. S. side came out to distort the content of the agreement with ulterior motives."

Quoting an editorial in the People's Daily, Peiping said the two sides agreed at Geneva that China would issue the invitation to India and the United States would issue the invitation to Great Britain.

The broadcast said the U. S. Information Service published "deliberately distorted" terms of

Solons Oppose Resumption Of U.S. Trade With Reds

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sens. Jenner (R.-Ind.) and Williams (R.-Del.) said today they are opposed to resumption of U. S. trade with Soviet Russia, even if it is limited to consumer goods.

Several members of Congress who have visited behind the Iron Curtain have said the time may be ripe to exchange some goods with Russia, particularly if this could include surplus American farm commodities.

The latest such suggestion came from Sen. Sparkman (D.-Ala.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the 1952 Democratic nominee for vice president.

Sparkman said in Berlin after a 14-day visit behind the Iron Curtain he favors exchanging some consumer goods with the Soviets but not any materials which they could use to build up their war machine.

Williams, a member of the Rebellion Bloodiest In 9 Years

Denial Made Navy Is to Join Rebels

Buenos Aires, Sept. 17 (AP)—Forces supporting President Peron seized the initiative today and hammered savagely in an effort to crush a rebellion that flared yesterday at half a dozen points. Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, "commander of repression," said there was "tranquility" except at isolated points.

It was the fourth attempt to oust Peron since the unsuccessful navy-led revolt of June 16 and was clearly the bloodiest rebellion Peron has faced in his nine years of power. There have been alternating claims of success in the current uprising.

LUCERO REPEATED a previous proclamation assuring the people that there was "tranquilty throughout the country" except at the scattered points of rebel resistance. He identified only two resistance points, Cordoba, important city in central Argentina 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires; Punta Alta, a city of about 26,000 some 375 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

Punta Alta is midway between Puerto Belgrano and Bahia Blanca. The state radio announced the 5th Infantry Regiment was in Bahia Blanca awaiting "important reinforcements" to attack the insurgents. Rebel forces claimed to have captured Bahia Blanca, a big wheat port, late yesterday.

The broadcast insisted the Argentine navy was loyal to the Peron regime and that the main fleet was anchored at Puerto Madryn, 600 miles south of Buenos Aires. This claim of naval loyalty conflicted with rebel claims the fleet was steaming northward in battle formation to join the revolutionists.

THE REBELS have claimed since last night they controlled much of southern Argentina, plus strategic Cordoba province

Oct. 15 Deadline For State Units On Flood Relief

Albany, Sept. 17—Local units of government in the New York State Flood disaster area have until Oct. 15, 1955 to make applications for work or for reimbursement for temporary flood damage repairs to public facilities, according to John W. Johnson, State Superintendent of Public Works.

JOHNSON SAID today that the cut-off date of Oct. 15 had been established by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. He emphasized the importance to counties, cities, towns and villages sustaining damages

Storm May Hit Coast Sunday

Southeastern Section Is Threatened; Hurricane Following Path of Connie

Miami, Fla., Sept. 17 (AP)—Hurricane Ione spun toward the United States mainland today and threatened to strike somewhere between Florida and North Carolina late Sunday.

At 5 a. m. (EST) Ione was 500 miles east of Miami and was roaring along with winds up to 90 MPH. She was expected to increase in both size and intensity, but to make her way toward the mainland at the slower pace of 8 to 10 miles an hour.

HER PRE-DAWN progress was about 12 miles an hour, which was about two miles slower than her progress last night.

Hurricane force winds bulged outward 40 miles from her furious center, and gales howled to the north and south — 225 miles in the northern semicircle and 120 miles in the southern.

Ione's northwesterly direction was expected to continue. This would take her to the north of Miami, but the weather bureau said Ione's movement had been so erratic that it was difficult to predict a definite path at this time.

FOR SEVERAL hours Ione has followed the identical path taken by Hurricane Connie five weeks ago. Connie crashed ashore on the North Carolina coast and ripped through Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania with powerful winds and torrential rains, causing heavy damage.

There was no indication that Ione would continue on that route but the weather bureau said "it is likely to continue toward the coast of the southeastern United States and could affect some section of this area by late Sunday afternoon or night."

"All interests from North Carolina to the central Florida coast should keep informed of latest advisories over the weekend," the weather bureau added. "Small craft should not venture far from port."

This was not a formal alert in advance of warnings, but a

Saugerties Bus Bid Up By $4,560

Would Increase Total to $75,157

The Board of Education of the Saugerties Central School approved a request by Albert Ricketson of Ulster avenue, Saugerties to increase his bid for transporting Mt. Marion pupils by $4,560 at a special meeting this week at Saugerties High School. This amount added to the total proposed transportation costs of the centralized school will give a grand total of $75,157 as the total cost of transportation.

The increase was motivated due to the increase of pupils to be transported from the original estimate of 20 to 43 and it is estimated that a still larger

Brett Says Fast Alarms Prevent Loss

If you smell smoke, or see it, or suspect fire, you are urged to notify the Kingston Fire Department immediately, Chief James M. Brett said today.

He said the fire department would rather make a hundred trips in suspicious cases than to go once to a fire which has gotten a "head start" because of a delayed alarm.

HE URGED the public not to "be afraid" to call the fire department. There's no cause to "feel embarrassed or feel there's a penalty" for calling the department in case no fire materializes. "That's the service you're paying for."

He cited cases, both local and national, in which delayed alarms had resulted in useless, sometimes tremendous, losses.

CHIEF BRETT advised those in charge of large buildings, institutions, etc., to instruct employes to notify the fire department immediately if they suspect fire and then go looking for it—not the reverse. He said that very often people go looking for the fire first to be sure it's there before calling the de-

Observers' Work Lauded; Call for More Skywatchers

Mrs. G. D. Logan, supervisor of the Kingston Observation Post, today praised the work of local skywatchers and issued a call for volunteers to carry on the work of the local post.

Observers work a two-hour shift a week. Women are needed for day shifts, men for nights. Day shifts can be arranged for those who work nights, she said.

TEEN-AGERS are needed for after school hours and weekends and those under 16 are required

BABY BURNED, MOTHER AND BOY HELD—Little six-month-old Dennis K. Henry gurgles happily in Philadelphia's Child Welfare Center Sept. 16, although police said the baby had been burned painfully on the right foot and also was suffering from cuts of the face and bruises of his back. Under arrest were the child's mother, Mrs. Shirley Henry, 20, and 18-year-old John R. Border, who Detective John Oates said admitted living with the young woman and said he burned the child on the foot and hit him several times "because he wouldn't stop crying." (AP Wirephoto)

RELEASED BY COMMUNISTS—The Rev. Harold W. Rigney, right, a Catholic priest from Chicago, talks into a microphone at Hong Kong, Sept. 15, after he and Walter Rickett, a Fulbright scholar from Seattle, Wash., left, were released by the Chinese Communists. The Communists have promised to release at least eight other Americans. (AP Wirephoto via radio from Hong Kong)

To Return Finnish Base

Red Move Prompted By Friendship Pact

Moscow, Sept. 17 (AP)—Premier Bulganin said today the Soviet Union has decided to return Porkkala military base, near Helsinki, to Finland.

The Russians have held the 152 square-mile enclave under a 50-year lease as a military base since the Soviet-Finnish armistice of 1944. The arrangement for the 20-mile-long peninsula on the Gulf of Finland, 20 miles southwest of Helsinki, was confirmed in the peace treaty of 1947.

AFTER THE Finnish-Soviet War of 1939-40, the Russians took Hango peninsula, on the Baltic southwest of Porkkala, under 30-year lease as a base, but swapped Hango in 1944 for Porkkala.

A Finnish delegation headed by President Juho K. Paasikivi and Premier Urho Kekkonen came to Moscow this week to try to get Porkkala back.

Bulganin announced the new decision to Kekkonen at the opening of today's working session in the Kremlin. Reporters were told about it at a news conference in the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

"The declaration of Porkkala fills our hearts and the hearts of the Finnish people with great joy," Kekkonen told Bulganin.

BULGANIN SAID that the Soviet Union was returning the base because of the "friendly relations exisiting between Finland and the Soviet Union and the favorable prospects for their future development."

He said the Soviet-Finnish Friendship Treaty of 1945 was about to expire and the Soviet would like to extend it. Kek-

Ike Summons Leaders to Youth Parley

Denver, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower today invited 139 sports world figures, top educators and leaders in other fields to a Sept. 27-28 conference here on building the physical fitness of America's youth.

The purpose of the conference is to get more youngsters out of the spectator grandstands and into active participation in athletics.

THE PRESIDENT has expressed concern that lack of such participation is responsible in part for increasing juvenile delinquency, and for failure of so many young people to measure up to selective service requirements.

As announced previously, Vice President Nixon will preside at the two-day conference at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here. The President himself will receive the conferees' recommendations and speak at a dinner concluding the sessions.

Those invited to the conference from the sports world include:

BOBBY JONES, the former grand slam champion of golf; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion; Rogers Hornsby, one-time baseball great and now director of youth activities for the Chicago park district; Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; Clarence "Biggie" Munn, athletic director at Michigan State University; Kenneth L. Wilson, president of the United States Olympic Committee; and Army Major Sammy Lee, Olympic diving champion who recently was twice rejected by Southern California real estate men in his attempts to purchase a home.

THEY TURNED Lee down because of his Korean lineage. Subsequently he was offered a house for sale in another California community where he plans to settle when he leaves the army. He is a physician on the staff at Fort Carson, Colo.

Among education leaders invited to the conference are Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education, and Dr. Lawrence D. Haskew of Oneonta, N. Y., president of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Invited among others from the news gathering field are:

Robert McLean, president of the Associated Press and publisher of the Philadelphia Bulletin; Frank Bartholomew, president of the United Press Asso-

Coast Man Hits Moral Treatment

Prelate Claims Others in Canton

Hong Kong, Sept. 17 (AP)—Continuing their slow-motion turnover of 10 American civilians they had promised to release at once, the Chinese Communists sent a third man across the border to freedom today.

He was Lawrence R. Buol, 34, of Stockton, Calif., who arrived at the frontier after five years and eight months imprisonment.

THE REDS also released an ailing Italian bishop who said he had been a prisoner in Communist China since 1951.

Buol, former operations officer for the American-owned civil air transport was in high spirits. He told welcoming American and British officials that his years of confinement had not been too rough physically, but "morally I was treated badly."

Soon after he crossed the border, Buol was joined by his wife Sue, who had worked tirelessly to win his release.

WITH TEARS in her eyes, she raced into her husband's arms. "Doesn't he look wonderful!" she exclaimed.

Buol was clean shaven and had a fresh haircut.

He also sent a telegram to his family hailing his release as "the happiest day of my life."

"I WANT TO express my thanks and appreciation to everyone, large and small, who contributed towards the amelioration of conditions and to all those responsible for my release," he said.

(In Stockton, Buol's father Lawrence said the news of his son's release "sure is wonderful." The elder Buol said there had been no word from his son until last year.)

Happily chewing gum, Buol wore a sports shirt and faded knee pants. He said he had lost about 30 pounds during his ordeal but looked fairly fit.

IN CONTRAST, the Italian prelate, identified as Bishop Alphonse Ferroni was so weak he had to be carried across the Schumchun river border.

"I can't believe how any person in his right mind should want to go back there," Ferroni said, motioning in the direction of Red China.

The prelate said six or seven Americans boarded his train at Hankow and probably were now in Canton, 80 miles from Hong Kong.

BUOL'S RELEASE came just 24 hours after the arrival of two other Americans — Walter A. Rickett of Seattle, a Fulbright scholar, and the Rev. Harold W. Rigney of Chicago, Roman Catholic educator. Both had been held since 1951.

All three were set free as a result of the Geneva negotia-

Flood Disaster Aid Is Nearing End in Ulster

Red Cross rehabilitation work in the flood stricken areas of Ulster county is expected to be completed in the next two or three weeks, according to a report made by Miss Blanche Skidmore, Red Cross disaster worker, who was sent to this area the day following the flood to assist the officials of the Ulster County Chapter in disaster work.

Miss Skidmore made a report on the progress of the disaster relief work to a meeting of the board of directors of the Chapter this week. Assisting Miss Skidmore is Miss June Oliver, who was sent into this area when the magnitude of the local job was made known.

The severest damage and consequently the greatest part of the rehabilitation work is in the Ellenville and Rosendale sections with some in the Highland area. Since taking over the disaster work Miss Skidmore reported Red Cross had dealt with 52 cases, some of them involving

Kerr Asks Benson Removal On Farm Price Drop Basis

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D.-Okla.) said today Secretary of Agriculture Benson should be removed from office because he is "directly responsible" for the continuing decline in farm income.

Kerr made plain in an interview that he does not think President Eisenhower will fire Benson, long a prime target of Democratic criticism.

The senator said Benson's removal would require a "political operation" — a Democratic victory in next year's presidential election which, Kerr said, is the only hope for the nation's farmers.

Kerr declared Benson is "still playing hop, skip and jump with the welfare of the American farmer" and is trying "to hypnonize the farmers into thinking they're well off, as he's been doing for 2½ years."

The senator was commenting on Benson's news conference

Your Life And Mine

WHO GOOFED?

Who goofed? The sheer fact that we ask the question betrays the fact that we do not know. And, believe me, it isn't always an easy job to find out, either. Responsibility is, very often, a mighty hard thing to track down. It is like the thief who gets the money and then proceeds to lose himself in the vast spreading forest of humanity.

Did you happen to read recently the report of a research project that is going on at the University of California to try to find out if heredity has anything to do with tenderness in meat? The primary experiments are being carried on with chickens. The few times in my life when my wife has served up a tough old biddie for supper I have got up from the table wishing I had the meat man who sold it to her by the nap of the neck with a nice high cliff near. Now it appears that he may not have been responsible at all. Maybe the biddie just didn't happen to have the right grandfather—the one with tenderness built right into the strain.

Who killed Cock Robin? It's hard to tell. And it is a lot easier to find out if he was killed by an arrow or a gun than it is if he died of neglect. Maybe somebody just forgot to feed him! To find that "somebody" is a far more complex quest than looking for a needle in a haystack.

"When Jesus came to Birmingham
they simply passed Him by,
They never hurt a hair of Him,
they only let Him die;
For men had grown more tender,
and they would not give Him pain,
They only just passed down the street, and left Him in the rain."

Locating those who are responsible for "letting Him die" is indeed an overwhelming task.

Yet there is no denying it—somebody goofed! Back in December 1944, Arthur H. Crowl of the FBI said in a speech delivered before the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York: "Before any boy or girl has broken the law, some adult has committed a more serious fault; some parent has been negligent in his or her responsibility, or some social agency has failed to fulfill completely its purpose." And J. Edgar Hoover has said only recently that "the criminal is the product of spiritual starvation. Someone failed miserably to bring him to know God, love Him, and serve Him."

"The child's sob in the silence," says Elizabeth Barrett Browning, "curses deeper than the strong man in his wrath." Waiting until we hear those "sobs in the silence," and then trying to find out who goofed, is not the answer. The answer is in the kind of vision and concern and social planning which eliminates the necessity for asking—Who goofed? And, believe me, that etches the superlative challenge of our day and time.

MAY HAVE BEEN ASKED TO RESIGN—Circles in close contact with the Argentine Army said Sept. 16, unnamed officials in the Army had called upon President Juan Peron, above, to resign. There was no official confirmation. Earlier government announcements reported armed rebellion at three key centers in the interior of the country had been crushed "rapidly." Moroccan Crisis Talks Begin

Paris, Sept. 17 (AP)—Gen. Pierre Boyer De Latour, French resident general of Morocco, flew in from Rabat today and began a series of conferences with government officials on the delayed settlement of the Moroccan crisis.

The general first visited Pierre July, minister of Tunisian and Moroccan affairs.

IT WAS EXPECTED that Boyer De Latour would give the colonists' views on the working out of Premier Edgar Faure's plan to give more independence to Moroccans.

The French want to get a Moroccan settlement before the United Nations General Assembly meets three days from now. The Arab nations are pressing for UN debate on north African problems.

De Latour left for Paris after a last-minute series of talks with the entourage of aging Sultan Mohammed Moulay Ben Arafa, whose delayed departure has been holding up reforms agreed to between the French and Moroccan Nationalists.

THE SULTAN opened his guarded palace to a stream of followers yesterday, touching off speculation that he was either preparing to leave or getting ready for a fight. The lat-

Car Driver Who Killed 4 Girls Guilty

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—A State Supreme Court jury has found Emil A. Decina, driver of the car which last March 14 jumped a curb and killed four small schoolgirls, guilty of criminal negligence.

The all-male jury returned last night shortly after 11 p. m. after more than 12 hours of deliberation. The charge carries a maximum sentence of five years in jail or a $1,000 fine, or both. Justice Lee L. Ottaway set Sept. 30 for sentencing.

AS THE JURY filed in, Decina, slight and nervous, got slowly to his feet. He strained

Peiping Charges U.S. Obstructs Repatriation

Tokyo, Sept. 17 (AP)—Red China's Peiping radio today accused the United States of obstructing the Geneva agreement on repatriation of civilians by both countries.

The Communist accusation was based on who would invite other countries to assist in the repatriation.

The Geneva agreement, announced Sept. 10, provided that India would assist Chinese in the United States who want to return to Red China and that Great Britain would assist U. S. nationals in Red China who want to go home.

Peiping said today, however, that "the U. S. side came out to distort the content of the agreement with ulterior motives."

Quoting an editorial in the People's Daily, Peiping said the two sides agreed at Geneva that China would issue the invitation to India and the United States would issue the invitation to Great Britain.

The broadcast said the U. S. Information Service published "deliberately distorted" terms of

Solons Oppose Resumption Of U.S. Trade With Reds

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sens. Jenner (R.-Ind.) and Williams (R.-Del.) said today they are opposed to resumption of U. S. trade with Soviet Russia, even if it is limited to consumer goods.

Several members of Congress who have visited behind the Iron Curtain have said the time may be ripe to exchange some goods with Russia, particularly if this could include surplus American farm commodities.

The latest such suggestion came from Sen. Sparkman (D.-Ala.), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the 1952 Democratic nominee for vice president.

Sparkman said in Berlin after a 14-day visit behind the Iron Curtain he favors exchanging some consumer goods with the Soviets but not any materials which they could use to build up their war machine.

Rebellion Bloodiest In 9 Years

Denial Made Navy Is to Join Rebels

Buenos Aires, Sept. 17 (AP)—Forces supporting President Peron seized the initiative today and hammered savagely in an effort to crush a rebellion that flared yesterday at half a dozen points. Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero, "commander of repression," said there was "tranquility" except at isolated points.

It was the fourth attempt to oust Peron since the unsuccessful navy-led revolt of June 16 and was clearly the bloodiest rebellion Peron has faced in his nine years of power. There have been alternating claims of success in the current uprising.

LUCERO REPEATED a previous proclamation assuring the people that there was "tranquilty throughout the country" except at the scattered points of rebel resistance. He identified only two resistance points, Cordoba, important city in central Argentina 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires; Punta Alta, a city of about 26,000 some 375 miles southwest of Buenos Aires.

Punta Alta is midway between Puerto Belgrano and Bahia Blanca. The state radio announced the 5th Infantry Regiment was in Bahia Blanca awaiting "important reinforcements" to attack the insurgents. Rebel forces claimed to have captured Bahia Blanca, a big wheat port, late yesterday.

The broadcast insisted the Argentine navy was loyal to the Peron regime and that the main fleet was anchored at Puerto Madryn, 600 miles south of Buenos Aires. This claim of naval loyalty conflicted with rebel claims the fleet was steaming northward in battle formation to join the revolutionists.

THE REBELS have claimed since last night they controlled much of southern Argentina, plus strategic Cordoba province

Oct. 15 Deadline For State Units On Flood Relief

Albany, Sept. 17—Local units of government in the New York State Flood disaster area have until Oct. 15, 1955 to make applications for work or for reimbursement for temporary flood damage repairs to public facilities, according to John W. Johnson, State Superintendent of Public Works.

JOHNSON SAID today that the cut-off date of Oct. 15 had been established by the Federal Civil Defense Administration. He emphasized the importance to counties, cities, towns and villages sustaining damages

Storm May Hit Coast Sunday

Southeastern Section Is Threatened; Hurricane Following Path of Connie

Miami, Fla., Sept. 17 (AP)—Hurricane Ione spun toward the United States mainland today and threatened to strike somewhere between Florida and North Carolina late Sunday.

At 5 a. m. (EST) Ione was 500 miles east of Miami and was roaring along with winds up to 90 MPH. She was expected to increase in both size and intensity, but to make her way toward the mainland at the slower pace of 8 to 10 miles an hour.

HER PRE-DAWN progress was about 12 miles an hour, which was about two miles slower than her progress last night.

Hurricane force winds bulged outward 40 miles from her furious center, and gales howled to the north and south — 225 miles in the northern semicircle and 120 miles in the southern.

Ione's northwesterly direction was expected to continue. This would take her to the north of Miami, but the weather bureau said Ione's movement had been so erratic that it was difficult to predict a definite path at this time.

FOR SEVERAL hours Ione has followed the identical path taken by Hurricane Connie five weeks ago. Connie crashed ashore on the North Carolina coast and ripped through Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania with powerful winds and torrential rains, causing heavy damage.

There was no indication that Ione would continue on that route but the weather bureau said "it is likely to continue toward the coast of the southeastern United States and could affect some section of this area by late Sunday afternoon or night."

"All interests from North Carolina to the central Florida coast should keep informed of latest advisories over the weekend," the weather bureau added. "Small craft should not venture far from port."

This was not a formal alert in advance of warnings, but a

Saugerties Bus Bid Up By $4,560

Would Increase Total to $75,157

The Board of Education of the Saugerties Central School approved a request by Albert Ricketson of Ulster avenue, Saugerties to increase his bid for transporting Mt. Marion pupils by $4,560 at a special meeting this week at Saugerties High School. This amount added to the total proposed transportation costs of the centralized school will give a grand total of $75,157 as the total cost of transportation.

The increase was motivated due to the increase of pupils to be transported from the original estimate of 20 to 43 and it is estimated that a still larger

Brett Says Fast Alarms Prevent Loss

If you smell smoke, or see it, or suspect fire, you are urged to notify the Kingston Fire Department immediately, Chief James M. Brett said today.

He said the fire department would rather make a hundred trips in suspicious cases than to go once to a fire which has gotten a "head start" because of a delayed alarm.

HE URGED the public not to "be afraid" to call the fire department. There's no cause to "feel embarrassed or feel there's a penalty" for calling the department in case no fire materializes. "That's the service you're paying for."

He cited cases, both local and national, in which delayed alarms had resulted in useless, sometimes tremendous, losses.

CHIEF BRETT advised those in charge of large buildings, institutions, etc., to instruct employes to notify the fire department immediately if they suspect fire and then go looking for it—not the reverse. He said that very often people go looking for the fire first to be sure it's there before calling the de-

Observers' Work Lauded; Call for More Skywatchers

Mrs. G. D. Logan, supervisor of the Kingston Observation Post, today praised the work of local skywatchers and issued a call for volunteers to carry on the work of the local post.

TEEN-AGERS are needed for after school hours and weekends and those under 16 are required

BABY BURNED, MOTHER AND BOY HELD—Little six-month-old Dennis K. Henry gurgles happily in Philadelphia's Child Welfare Center Sept. 16, although police said the baby had been burned painfully on the right foot and also was suffering from cuts of the face and bruises of his back. Under arrest were the child's mother, Mrs. Shirley Henry, 20, and 18-year-old John R. Border, who Detective John Oates said admitted living with the young woman and said he burned the child on the foot and hit him several times "because he wouldn't stop crying." (AP Wirephoto)

To Return Finnish Base

Red Move Prompted By Friendship Pact

Moscow, Sept. 17 (AP)—Premier Bulganin said today the Soviet Union has decided to return Porkkala military base, near Helsinki, to Finland.

The Russians have held the 152 square-mile enclave under a 50-year lease as a military base since the Soviet-Finnish armistice of 1944. The arrangement for the 20-mile-long peninsula on the Gulf of Finland, 20 miles southwest of Helsinki, was confirmed in the peace treaty of 1947.

AFTER THE Finnish-Soviet War of 1939-40, the Russians took Hango peninsula, on the Baltic southwest of Porkkala, under 30-year lease as a base, but swapped Hango in 1944 for Porkkala.

A Finnish delegation headed by President Juho K. Paasikivi and Premier Urho Kekkonen came to Moscow this week to try to get Porkkala back.

Bulganin announced the new decision to Kekkonen at the opening of today's working session in the Kremlin. Reporters were told about it at a news conference in the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

"The declaration of Porkkala fills our hearts and the hearts of the Finnish people with great joy," Kekkonen told Bulganin.

BULGANIN SAID that the Soviet Union was returning the base because of the "friendly relations exisiting between Finland and the Soviet Union and the favorable prospects for their future development."

He said the Soviet-Finnish Friendship Treaty of 1945 was about to expire and the Soviet would like to extend it. Kek-

Ike Summons Leaders to Youth Parley

Denver, Sept. 17 (AP)—President Eisenhower today invited 139 sports world figures, top educators and leaders in other fields to a Sept. 27-28 conference here on building the physical fitness of America's youth.

The purpose of the conference is to get more youngsters out of the spectator grandstands and into active participation in athletics.

THE PRESIDENT has expressed concern that lack of such participation is responsible in part for increasing juvenile delinquency, and for failure of so many young people to measure up to selective service requirements.

As announced previously, Vice President Nixon will preside at the two-day conference at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here. The President himself will receive the conferees' recommendations and speak at a dinner concluding the sessions.

Those invited to the conference from the sports world include:

BOBBY JONES, the former grand slam champion of golf; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champion; Rogers Hornsby, one-time baseball great and now director of youth activities for the Chicago park district; Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; Clarence "Biggie" Munn, athletic director at Michigan State University; Kenneth L. Wilson, president of the United States Olympic Committee; and Army Major Sammy Lee, Olympic diving champion who recently was twice rejected by Southern California real estate men in his attempts to purchase a home.

THEY TURNED Lee down because of his Korean lineage. Subsequently he was offered a house for sale in another California community where he plans to settle when he leaves the army. He is a physician on the staff at Fort Carson, Colo.

Among education leaders invited to the conference are Dr. Arthur S. Adams, president of the American Council on Education, and Dr. Lawrence D. Haskew of Oneonta, N. Y., president of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

Invited among others from the news gathering field are:

Robert McLean, president of the Associated Press and publisher of the Philadelphia Bulletin; Frank Bartholomew, president of the United Press Asso-

Flood Disaster Aid Is Nearing End in Ulster

Red Cross rehabilitation work in the flood stricken areas of Ulster county is expected to be completed in the next two or three weeks, according to a report made by Miss Blanche Skidmore, Red Cross disaster worker, who was sent to this area the day following the flood to assist the officials of the Ulster County Chapter in disaster work.

Miss Skidmore made a report on the progress of the disaster relief work to a meeting of the board of directors of the Chapter this week. Assisting Miss Skidmore is Miss June Oliver, who was sent into this area when the magnitude of the local job was made known.

The severest damage and consequently the greatest part of the rehabilitation work is in the Ellenville and Rosendale sections with some in the Highland area. Since taking over the disaster work Miss Skidmore reported Red Cross had dealt with 52 cases, some of them involving

Prelate Claims Others in Canton

Hong Kong, Sept. 17 (AP)—Continuing their slow-motion turnover of 10 American civilians they had promised to release at once, the Chinese Communists sent a third man across the border to freedom today.

He was Lawrence R. Buol, 34, of Stockton, Calif., who arrived at the frontier after five years and eight months imprisonment.

THE REDS also released an ailing Italian bishop who said he had been a prisoner in Communist China since 1951.

Buol, former operations officer for the American-owned civil air transport was in high spirits. He told welcoming American and British officials that his years of confinement had not been too rough physically, but "morally I was treated badly."

Soon after he crossed the border, Buol was joined by his wife Sue, who had worked tirelessly to win his release.

WITH TEARS in her eyes, she raced into her husband's arms. "Doesn't he look wonderful!" she exclaimed.

Buol was clean shaven and had a fresh haircut.

He also sent a telegram to his family hailing his release as "the happiest day of my life."

"I WANT TO express my thanks and appreciation to everyone, large and small, who contributed towards the amelioration of conditions and to all those responsible for my release," he said.

(In Stockton, Buol's father Lawrence said the news of his son's release "sure is wonderful." The elder Buol said there had been no word from his son until last year.)

Happily chewing gum, Buol wore a sports shirt and faded knee pants. He said he had lost about 30 pounds during his ordeal but looked fairly fit.

IN CONTRAST, the Italian prelate, identified as Bishop Alphonse Ferroni was so weak he had to be carried across the Schumchun river border.

"I can't believe how any person in his right mind should want to go back there," Ferroni said, motioning in the direction of Red China.

The prelate said six or seven Americans boarded his train at Hankow and probably were now in Canton, 80 miles from Hong Kong.

BUOL'S RELEASE came just 24 hours after the arrival of two other Americans — Walter A. Rickett of Seattle, a Fulbright scholar, and the Rev. Harold W. Rigney of Chicago, Roman Catholic educator. Both had been held since 1951.

All three were set free as a result of the Geneva negotia-

Kerr Asks Benson Removal On Farm Price Drop Basis

Washington, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D.-Okla.) said today Secretary of Agriculture Benson should be removed from office because he is "directly responsible" for the continuing decline in farm income.

Kerr made plain in an interview that he does not think President Eisenhower will fire Benson, long a prime target of Democratic criticism.

The senator said Benson's removal would require a "political operation" — a Democratic victory in next year's presidential election which, Kerr said, is the only hope for the nation's farmers.

Kerr declared Benson is "still playing hop, skip and jump with the welfare of the American farmer" and is trying "to hypnonize the farmers into thinking they're well off, as he's been doing for 2½ years."

The senator was commenting on Benson's news conference

Mayor Is Lauded For Getting Site To Train Firemen

Mayor Frederick H. Stang recently received a letter of thanks and commendation from Fire Chief James M. Brett for the mayor's effort in obtaining use of a building at 32 East Pierpont street for fire training purposes.

Thanks was extended in behalf of the entire department as well as himself, Brett said, and he noted that use of the building enables "on-the-job fire training, for which there is no substitute."

It would cost the city many thousands of dollars if it were to build a structure for the same purpose, and he felt that use of the building, which was acquired from the housing authority, will aid in providing the city with a better trained fire department "and consequently will provide much better fire protection to citizens of the city."

Case Adjourned

Joseph Genther, Jr., 21, of Glasco, who was arrested at the State Diner, Broadway and St. James street at 1:20 a. m. today on a disorderly conduct charge, was granted adjournment until Sept. 27 when he appeared in City Court today. He was arrested by Officers Bernard Fowler and John Crespino.

Eggerman Held For Grand Jury On Ramos Charge

Fred Eggerman, 53, of Port Ewen, was arrested yesterday on a charge of attempted sodomy on complaint of Philip Ramos, 23, of 63 Green street, who was himself arrested last Sunday by Eggerman on a charge of assault third degree.

Mr. Eggerman, who operates the Eggerman Woven Label Factory in Port Ewen, was arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen, waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

A HEARING in the case of John Ramos, 21, of 298 Clinton avenue, who was arrested Sunday, Sept. 11, on a charge of petit larceny was also held before Judge Palen last night and Mr. Ramos was held for the grand jury. He was represented by Attorney Francis Martocci of Kingston.

The case of Philip Ramos, represented by Attorney Harry Gold, was adjourned by Judge Palen until 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Arrest of the two Ramos men followed an altercation in the Eggerman home about 2:30 a. m. last Sunday involving Mr. Eggerman and his father, Frederick Eggerman, and the two Ramoses, according to the Ulster county sheriff's office.

IT WAS REPORTED that the Ramoses were visiting in the Eggerman home when a quarrel began, followed by fisticuffs in which Mr. Eggerman sustained a black eye and his father minor injuries.

At 2:25 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 11, the Port Ewen Fire Department was called to the Eggerman factory where a fire had apparently broken out in the storeroom.

When the fire department arrived at the scene Mr. Eggerman was found in some bushes in back of the factory apparently in a state of shock and was taken to Kingston Hospital in the emergency truck of the department.

Mr. Eggerman's physician said at the time that he was suffering from nervous shock as the result of Sunday's events.

He fingered a prayerbook that he had clutched in his hand all during the trial. Decina sat alone during the trial and seemed little moved by the testimony. He did not take the stand during the three-day trial.

This was the second time that the 33-year-old aircraft worker faced a jury on the criminal negligence charge. The first jury was deadlocked last June 24 after nine hours of deliberation.

The state claimed that Decina drove his car knowing that he suffered from a condition that might render him helpless at any time.

DECINA'S ATTORNEY claimed that the accident was an "act of God" and that Decina should not be sent to jail.

The four girls killed in the accident ranged from 6 to 11 years of age. They had just left school and were walking along the sidewalk when Decina's car jumped the curb, struck them and continued on into a store front. A fifth girl was injured but recovered. Decina was not injured.

Justice Ottaway said he would hear appeals in the case Sept. 26. He continued Decina's bail of $2,500.

number from that area will need to be transportated before the end of the current school year.

RICKETSON'S ESTIMATE includes provisions for transporting without additional charge as many as 21 additional pupils beyond the number now being transported.

The Board made a historic move when they voted to provide transportation after practice sessions for members of athletic teams including football, basketball and baseball. Practically all other centralized districts in the state have this service it was noted. Boys in the rural areas of Saugerties have never enjoyed this service.

It was reported that a committee of the board consisting of Mrs. Agnes Schroeder, John Lowther, Mrs. Mary Lasher, Robert Herb, Henry Haeussler and Superintendent Grant D. Morse will travel to Syracuse on Thursday to inspect school buildings. Another committee will make a trip during the first week of October for a similar purpose.

Brett Says . . .

partment.

He said this precaution applied to dwellings too. He cautioned that no one should go to bed if there's a suspicious smell of smoke in the house. Often motorists or residents of a neighborhood will smell or see smoke for hours without reporting it, the chief pointed out.

"TIME IS OUR greatest ally. If we get the call quickly we can pretty nearly extinguish any fire."

Chief Brett said the "greatest enemy is the delayed alarm." Frequently, in reading about fire losses, there is a line included in the story about how people either tried to extinguish the fire themselves before calling the department or else delayed the call because they feared unfavorable publicity. He warned that such delay might often be disastrous.

Donald Burghers Will Leave Sunday for Reunion in Holland

Donald H. Burgher, advertising solicitor for The Freeman, and the girl he married 10 years ago while stationed at Treebeek, Holland, fly tomorrow afternoon by KLM Airlines for three weeks in Mrs. Burgher's homeland.

Incidentally, it is the first time either of them has been in the air. The plane departs from Idlewild Airport, New York city, at 1 p. m.

How do they feel about air travel? "I'm kind of anxious to see how it feels," says Don. His wife? Well, "She's not scared."

THEY ARRIVE in Amsterdam, Holland, 14 hours later—9:15 a. m. Holland time—after stops at Gander, Newfoundland, and Shannon, Ireland.

"I'd be jumping in my skin with excitement," your reporter commented, eliciting a smile from the husky and jovial Mr. Burgher. "My wife's got everything packed already!" he replied.

The Burghers, who reside at 295 Clifton avenue, hope to do a little touring during their stay although the purpose of the visit, of course, is to see Mrs. Burgher's family.

THEY WILL be met at the plane in Amsterdam by Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Richter, Mrs. Burgher's parents, and two of her nine brothers and sister—Soskia, 12, and Robby, seven. Incidentally, the Burghers havent seen Soskie since she was a year old.

From Amsterdam they will drive the length of Holland (about 120 miles) to the village of Treebeek where 10 years ago—or a little more—Sgt. Burgher, then company clerk for Headquarters Company, 116th Infantry, 29th Division, was stationed when he met and fell in love with Wilhelmina Richter.

THEY WERE MARRIED May 3, 1945—"twice," as Don puts it, by civil law and by church. The civil ceremony was in Heerleen and the religious rites at the Dutch Reformed Church in Treebeek, a village about the size of Saugerties.

Don returned to the United States on Oct. 18, 1945, and Mrs. Burgher joined him on Jan. 7, 1946.

Mrs. Burgher is immensely excited about seeing her people, naturally. It will be the first time in a decade except for a visit to this country by her mother for three months in 1949.

Don and "Mimy" (diminutive for Wilhelmina) plan to take some color movies while in Holland. They hope to see something of Mimy's native land, especially in the vicinity of the German border, revisiting some of the places where Sgt. Burgher was stationed during World War 2.

Oh, yes, and they want to bring back some Delft blue ware, some hand-carved wooden shoes, some Dutch records, some Dutch cigars, etc.. etc.! But hold on! You're only allowed to bring back $300 worth, Don!

MRS. BURGHER will celebrate a birthday while there—October 7.

The Burghers will be driven to Idlewild Airport by their very good friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burnett, owners of DeWitt Lake. The Burnetts will also pick them up when they return Sunday, Oct. 8.

Settlement . . .

ter prospect seemed unlikely for a man heretofore regarded as a French puppet and never fully accepted by his people.

The problem now is appointment of a regency council to guard the throne when the Sultan leaves. De Latour is caught in the middle between the desires of the French government, the Moroccan Nationalists and the French colonists.

Tension in Morocco was heightened just before de LaTour's departure by a bombing incident. A grenade, thrown from a passing taxi, exploded on the terrace of a cafe, injuring six Europeans.

SUCH INCIDENTS have been rare in recent weeks while negotiations appeared to be making progress. Further delays are feared by those who want to see violence quelled in the protectorate.

The reluctance of the sultan to depart, and the reluctance of his backers—who include French colonists and powerful native leaders—is hinged on fear of the return of the Nationalist former sultan, Mohammed Ben Youssef.

The French Colonists and Nationalists are equally concerned about the composition of the council which would take over on Moulay Arafa's departure. This council would have in its hands the ultimate solution to the situation unless it succumbs to outside pressures.

Two men appear to have accepted posts on the council. They are:

Bulganin, who has been absent from the busy Moscow scene for two days because of illness, commented that because of the current friendly relations between his country and Finland the Soviet government considers it possible to give up in advance its right to Porkkala, to give up its naval base there, and to withdraw its troops."

Case Is Adjourned On Robbery Charge

Lionel Coddington, 31, of 109 Hunter street, who was arrested at 12:38 a. m. today on a second degree robbery charge, was granted adjournment until September 19 when he appeared in City Court today. The adjournment was granted to permit Coddington to obtain counsel.

Coddington was arrested by Officers William Snyder and William Slover at 38 Broadway on the complaint of Theodore Hinkley, 49, who gave his address as a barge owned by the Reliance Marine Transportation and Construction Corporation, 615 Abeel street.

Coast Man . . .

tions between representatives of the United States and Red China. The Chinese agreed to release at once 10 of 41 American civilians held. Twelve of the 41, not actually under arrest, are declared by the Chinese to be free to go when they choose. The other 19 may appeal to the British Charge D'Affaires in Peiping to help them get out.

Buol was captured at the Mengtze airstrip 140 miles south of Kunming in January 1950. He was a marine transport pilot in World War 2.

A CHINESE Communist spokesman charged in May 1954 that Buol was "assisting Chiang Kai-shek's brigands to wage civil war against the Chinese people."

Father Rigney told reporters yesterday that the Reds got him to admit he was a spy "according to their definition but not from an American standpoint."

"I said sure I had spied—from their point of view what I did was spying but not from an American standpoint. They accused me of being a State Department, intelligence or government agent, which I denied."

Rickett declared as soon as he crossed the border that he had spied for the United States in the Chinese civil war and is convinced the Americans used germ warfare in the Korean conflict.

He hailed the "lenient" treatment he had received at the hands of the Communists.

Flood Disaster

families who lost practically everything. For the first few days attention was given to emergency relief in the form of shelter, food, clothing and medical attention. Later the program for rehibilitation of families was undertaken and the work of re-establishing families and putting them in a position to resume normal living was taken up.

Local people were given credit for the manner in which they turned out to assist those in need. In Ellenville, hardest hit area, Miss Skidmore said the officials, police and private citizens had been most co-operative. In Ulster county a total of $5,963.29 was quickly donated to the emergency flood relief fund and small contributions are still coming in.

Red Cross expects the total cost of its program to approximate $10 million dollars in the eastern state area which was hard hit by flood.

IN HER REPORT Miss Skidmore told of the hardship which some families had suffered and the great need for assistance. One family, involving three children, is attempting to reestablish themselves temporarily in three rooms after loosing practically all of their personal belongings. Three families lost their homes completely and another family with 22 children was practically destitute. In all 38 families have registered for assistance in addition to those who were given emergency assistance.

Storm May Hit

general alert to keep advised of the storm's movements.

"THE PRINCIPAL idea is that we don't want people to get out of touch and be caught unawares by a dangerous storm," said Cecil Gentry, storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau.

Gentry said the storm is still some distance from the coast and conditions can change radically, but because of the critical location and erratic behavior of Ione, the alert along the coast was justified.

Hurricane Hilda swept westward across the Yucatan peninsula and was expected to increase in size and intensity after entering the Gulf of Mexico a little north of Campeche.

HILDA ENTERED the gulf early today with highest winds estimated at 75 MPH near the center. It was moving toward the west northwest at from 10 to 12 miles an hour, a direction and pace it was expected to follow through the morning.

Despite its distance from the U. S. coast, it was expected to send tides rising on the lower Texas coast tonight.

Peiping Charges

the agreement. It said the U. S. version was that Red China should issue the invitation to Britain and that the United States should invite India.

Peiping insisted that the Red Chinese procedure should be followed.

It said that otherwise the operation of the agreement would be obstructed and added:

"Those desiring to return to their homeland are particularly eager."

(As announced jointly in Geneva, the agreement said only that India and Britain "will be invited to assist * * *" It did not say which country would be responsible for which invitations.)

Kiwanians Horse Show Set Tomorrow

The entire proceeds from the Ulster Kiwanis Horse Show scheduled for Sunday, will be devoted to the youth program of the community.

Events will begin at 10 a. m. and will extend through the afternoon. Refreshments will be served on the grounds during the day. The site of the show is the Chambers field in the town of Ulster just north of the city and opposite the Ulster Hose Company No. 5 firehouse.

THERE HAVE been entered a large number of horses in the various classes and trophies for the different classes have been donated. Judges will include Jack Hammond of Ilion, who is very well known in horse circles throughout the east.

The list of entries has been most encouraging and entered are horses which had been groomed for showing at the Ulster County Fair but were not displayed when the horse show was called off because of bad weather.

Included in the morning program are six events and the afternoon will include 13 events.

Kerr Asks Benson

statement late yesterday that the farm situation is a real problem but one which the Eisenhower administration inherited from previous Democratic regimes.

The agriculture secretary called for "serious, nonpartisan consideration" of the problem. Without naming names, he deplored efforts of persons who, he said, are trying to make a "political football" out of the growing spread between falling prices farmers are receiving for their products and rising prices they have to pay for goods they must buy.

Benson has promised some "very specific" legislative proposals for Congress next January, although they are not expected to involve the administration's controversial, basic shift from rigid to flexible farm price supports. Republican state chairmen agreed at a meeting here last week that declining farm prices are the biggest political barrier to the election of a GOP Congress next year.

Benson said yesterday, however, that he feels American agriculture is "basically sound," despite what he calls "the claims of the prophets of gloom and doom."

Sets Constitution Week

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today proclaimed the week of September 1 7to 23 as Constitution Week. In his proclamation, the mayor pointed out that this is the 168th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States and requested residents of the city to display the American flag during the observance.

Rebellion . . .

and its capital, the city of Cordoba.

A rebel radio station calling itself the "Force of Freedom" broadcast today from Cordoba. It ordered business to return to normal in Cordoba city.

The broadcast warned that anyone caught spreading false rumors "would be shot on the spot." It claimed the insurgents are not aligned with any political party and are not "the instrument of the ambition of anyone." It declared that "only God and the fatherland guide our steps."

LASHING OUT in the predawn hours today, troops loyal to Peron crushed two rebel strongholds. A government radio broadcast said:

"Important military troops which are advancing to suffocate rebel centers continue to progress with the support of military aviation."

There was no accurate estimate of casualties in the bitter fighting but the toll was expected to far outstrip the 300 to 400 dead and 1,000 wounded in the June 16 upheaval. The largest announced death count was at Eva Peron, the capital of Buenos Aires Province, where 80 policemen were reported killed.

The rebels early today claimed control of the central plains of Cordoba, the naval forces at sea, the big naval base of Puerto Belgrano and other isolated spots in the interior.

AIRBORNE loyalist troops were reported in action against rebel forces at Cordoba, the provincial capital and a city of 350,000 persons.

The rebels claimed yesterday Cordoba was "conquered again for God and fatherland." Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Videla Balaguer, described by the government radio as the leader of the rebellion, proclaimed a provincial government at Cordoba and blamed Peron for "many deaths."

Loyalist troops were flown to Cordoba and immediately engaged rebel forces in the city's main square, reports from the scene said.

THE FIRST major rebel defeat came at the Rio Santiago naval base in southern Argentina, where loyal airmen and ground troops rained bombs and artillery shells on anti-Peron forces. An official announcement said the revolutionary units there surrendered shortly before midnight after a day of furious fighting.

Another government announcement said a rebel garrison at Curuzu Cuatia fell early this morning and loyal troops were in pursuit of the rebels. Many prisoners were reported taken. Cuatia is a rail junction and airport town of 15,000 persons 325 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

ON THE LIST from the field of government are, among others, FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover; Secretary of Welfare Folsom; U. S. Surgeon General Leonard Scheele; Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director; and Samuel Brownell, U. S. education commissioner.

Your Life And Mine

WHO GOOFED?

Who goofed? The sheer fact that we ask the question betrays the fact that we do not know. And, believe me, it isn't always an easy job to find out, either. Responsibility is, very often, a mighty hard thing to track down. It is like the thief who gets the money and then proceeds to lose himself in the vast spreading forest of humanity.

Did you happen to read recently the report of a research project that is going on at the University of California to try to find out if heredity has anything to do with tenderness in meat? The primary experiments are being carried on with chickens. The few times in my life when my wife has served up a tough old biddie for supper I have got up from the table wishing I had the meat man who sold it to her by the nap of the neck with a nice high cliff near. Now it appears that he may not have been responsible at all. Maybe the biddie just didn't happen to have the right grandfather—the one with tenderness built right into the strain.

Who killed Cock Robin? It's hard to tell. And it is a lot easier to find out if he was killed by an arrow or a gun than it is if he died of neglect. Maybe somebody just forgot to feed him! To find that "somebody" is a far more complex quest than looking for a needle in a haystack.

"When Jesus came to Birmingham
they simply passed Him by,
They never hurt a hair of Him,
they only let Him die;
For men had grown more tender,
and they would not give Him pain,
They only just passed down the street, and left Him in the rain."

Locating those who are responsible for "letting Him die" is indeed an overwhelming task.

Yet there is no denying it—somebody goofed! Back in December 1944, Arthur H. Crowl of the FBI said in a speech delivered before the Girl Scout Council of Greater New York: "Before any boy or girl has broken the law, some adult has committed a more serious fault; some parent has been negligent in his or her responsibility, or some social agency has failed to fulfill completely its purpose." And J. Edgar Hoover has said only recently that "the criminal is the product of spiritual starvation. Someone failed miserably to bring him to know God, love Him, and serve Him."

"The child's sob in the silence," says Elizabeth Barrett Browning, "curses deeper than the strong man in his wrath." Waiting until we hear those "sobs in the silence," and then trying to find out who goofed, is not the answer. The answer is in the kind of vision and concern and social planning which eliminates the necessity for asking—Who goofed? And, believe me, that etches the superlative challenge of our day and time.

The male members take part in speaking while the women listen to the information and have a chance to add interesting points to the Bible material considered.

THE SOCIETY of Jehovah's Witnesses publishes a Bible study magazine called, "The Watchtower." Each week they gather to study the information given in the magazine. Considered the most valuable meeting, it is held after the public talk, Sunday at approximately 8:15 p. m.

THE FARM PRICE ISSUE

Though it is customary for politicians to announce what the issues will be in an election campaign, saying it doesn't make it so.

No one who is wholly candid with the public will pretend he can forecast with finality what matters will deeply concern the voters more than 12 months hence.

The most that can honestly be said this far ahead is that one party or the other has certain problems which may develop into decisive issues in 1956. For the Republicans, one of these is the general slide in farm prices and the consequent drop in crop-and-livestock income.

Such income has been declining for several years, indeed, long before the GOP took the White House in 1952. But since the farmers cannot now penalize the Democrats, the Republicans naturally fear they may be held accountable at the polls.

The figures on agricultural income are not in the realm of dispute. From time to time they have leveled off or turned slightly upward. But always they have resumed their descent.

It would be absurd to underestimate the political peril in this situation for any party in power. Evidence from the 1954 elections indicates that farm distress most certainly was translated into Democratic congressional victories in some areas. The impact, however, was not general.

But there are aspects of the farm situation which, at least temporarily, make it appear a good deal brighter than a superficial look at the generalized crop income figures would suggest.

For one thing, while net farm income from crops and stock has tumbled 30 per cent since 1947, farm population has fallen 19 per cent in the same period. This migration to the cities has softened the shock of the income decline for those who have stayed behind.

Second, many still on farms have found other sources of income to boost their annual earnings. In combination with the population factor, this development has caused total income of farmers on a per person basis to rise from $788 in 1947 to $918 in 1954.

Farmers have made the extra money by working in local factories, mines and shops, mostly in the off season, of course. The prospect is that their per capita earnings will hold up or even climb a bit in 1955.

There is no sign that these compensating factors leave farmers deliriously happy. They can hardly watch a steady fall in crop-and-livestock income without misgivings.

Nevertheless, these additional elements seem to have been overlooked by politicians of both parties. And they do make the picture considerably less grim than some of the orators have conceded. They might even determine whether or not the farm question really will be an important 1956 issue with the voters.

Dieting is a popular pursuit. Once started, everyone helps keep it that way by reminding you of it!

RUSSIAN NAVAL STRENGTH

Russia is catching up with us in naval strength according to Admiral Robert B. Carney, retiring Chief of Naval Operations. This growing power is especially serious in the Far East, but affects United States' strength everywhere.

Carney thinks that we should be strong in both the Atlantic and Pacific. At present our tonnage is sufficent only for one ocean making it necessary to shift ships from one to the other.

Possibly control of the air may some day make sea power relatively unimportant, but that day has not yet arrived. In bolstering the Air Force and providing strength for a standing army, the Defense Department has made serious cuts in the Navy's budget. Many military strategists agree with Carney that until the day comes when the Navy can be safely cut down, today's decreased Navy allowance may be too little too soon.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE A.F. OF L. AND THE "NEW LOOK"

The American Federation of Labor is apparently not a votary of fashion. It has not taken on the "New Look." At a time when so many of those who call themselves anti-Communist and anti-Marxist are catching the "Geneva Spirit," the American Federation of Labor courageously takes the position that principles are unaffected by shifting styles.

The Free Trade Union Committee is an organ of the American Federation of Labor. Its officers are George Meany, Honorary President, Matthew Woll, President, David Dubinsky, Vice-President, William Schnitzler, Honorary Secretary, Jay Lovestone, Executive Secretary. This body has probably done more to undermine Communist influences in European and Asiatic trade unions than any other group. It has been consistently anti-Communist.

It is this Committee which has given worldwide circulation to its rejection of the suggestion that "trade union delegations from Soviet Russia and other Iron Curtain countries" visit the United States "as guests of our free trade union movement."

On this subject, it states:

"The Executive Council of the A.F. of L. vigorously rejects all such invitations. They stem from Moscow to serve the interests of the Soviet dictatorship at home and abroad. A visit by an authoritative American trade union delegation to the U.S.S.R. would not bring the peoples of Russia and America closer. Such a visit would only play into the hands of the totalitarian dictatorship which, regardless of its apologies at Belgrade and smiles at Geneva, denies its own people all fundamental human rights. This regime cynically denies its working people the right of freedom of association and organization, the right to strike and the right of genuine collective bargaining enjoyed by the workers of all free countries."

This is similar to the position taken by William L. McGrath of the employer group of the American delegation to the 38th International Labor Conference at Geneva last June. He reported:

"The workers' delegations are supposed to represent free associations of workers, and the employers' delegations are supposed to represent free associations of employers."

Neither Russian employers nor employes are free men; they represent their government. They are controlled by their government. Therefore, the American employer delegates withdrew from four conference committees. Mr. McGrath said:

"I felt that positive action was imperative in order to emphasize the need for maintaining a stand, on principle, on behalf of preserving not only the tripartite structure of this organization but the very existence of the International Labour Organization. Do we want the I.L.O. to stay alive? Or do we want it destroyed by the Communists?"

Although officially the American Government is accepting the Russian "New Look," American labor, as represented by the American Federation of Labor, and this significant employer's group in the I.L.O insist that there cannot be and should not be a compromise on principle between free labor and slave labor, between free employers and representatives of a society in which every manager of enterprise is a government official.

The American Federation of Labor further says:

". . . We of the A.F. of L. are not going to be thus used and exploited by the Communist or by any other dictatorship. When the Nazis grabbed power in Germany and destroyed its trade unions and all other democratic institutions, we of the A.F. of L. refused to send good-will or study missions to that country. No American, or any other free trade union organization, ever sent such a mission to Fascist Italy or Falangist Spain. To have sent such missions to any of these dictatorships would have provided a cover of moral respectability and human decency to their totalitarian tyrants. To have sent such labor missions would . . . have shattered their faith in international labor solidarity and in the forces of freedom everywhere.

"None of us found it necessary to visit any of these totalitarian countries in order to find out what Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco want or whether they have a 'new look.' Everything we have said about the Nazi, Fascist, and Falangist totalitarian regimes holds with equal force for the Khrushchev regime in Russia. Merely because communism calls itself a proletarian dictatorship does not make it less warlike and less brutal or more democratic and more peaceful, than the Nazi, Fascist, and Falangist totalitarian regimes."

Whatever one may feel about the various countries included in this grouping, the fact stands clear that those who oppose state control of man cannot compromise their principles without losing their moral position.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

INFANT DEATHS

Yesterday we were discussing the high death rate in infants less than one week old and the startling fact that more infants die during the first three days than in the other 362 days of their first year. What were some of the reasons for this high death rate in Chicago (and other cities) hospitals? An investigation was begun of this serious problem in 1950 and the following facts were uncovered.

1. Unsufficiently trained and unlicensed internes were entrusted with complicated deliveries for which they were not properly trained.
2. Excessive amounts of sedatives were administered.
3. There was improper treatment of threatened abortions.
4. There was failure to have early consultation as required by the rules and regulations when complications of labor developed.
5. Failure to use proper methods of resuscitation in delivery room.
6. Failure to provide immediate, adequate care for all infants in the nursery.
7. Failure to have sick infants seen and carefully examined early by the attending physician and a child specialist is required.
8. Excessive use of general inhalation anesthetics at the expense of the life of premature infants, particularly the smaller ones.
9. Failure to put the newborn premature infant immediately into a pre-warmed incubator and to provide immediate and proper transportation of the premature infant from the delivery room to the premature nursery.
10. Failure to observe the premature infant continuously in the nursery and failure to render proper care, leaving the care of premature infants to insufficiently trained residents and internes and nurses.
11. Failure to have immediate consultation with a baby specialist for all infants weighing less than 4½ pounds when necessary as required by regulations.
12. Failure to keep air passages clear at all times.

These are just a few of the many agents which can cause death in the newborn. We do not mean to alarm the expectant mother and yet it is necessary to draw attention to a tremendously serious matter. There are many factors having an influence on life and death with which we cannot deal but it is certainly up to all of us to cut down as much as humanly possible on those factors, such as the above, on which we can have an influence.

We should also keep in mind that too many newborn infants die because the already known necessary steps are not taken to keep them from dying. Complete investigations of all such cases should be made in order to find out the exact cause in each case so that steps can be taken to remedy the situation if possible.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA)—A further drop in farm prices, while the cost of nearly everything else is going up, has caught the eye of the politicians.

The Democrats have announced that they will make a number one issue out of the plight of the farmer in 1956. They'll blame it all on the Republicans.

The Republicans, at their recent political school in Washington, seemed bothered by the prospect. The GOP attitude since 1952 has been that all their farm problems were inherited from the Democrats. But if farm prices are still down next year, this argument may be of doubtful value.

Non-partisan farm experts in the Department of Agriculture say the worst thing that can happen to the farm situation right now is to make a political issue of it. This is the advice of the necessarily anonymous civil servants who keep the government farm machinery running regardless of which political party is in power.

WHAT AGRICULTURE needs most is consideration as a bipartisan issue, as foreign policy is handled.

Basic to the whole problem is the simple fact that agricultural science has become too good and American farmers have become too efficient. The result is more production than is needed—more supply than demand—and falling prices.

On top of this, so many legal gimmicks, subsidies, benefits and artificial price supports have been put into farm law as incentives for still more production that agriculture is hardly distinguishable as a straight economic problem.

The United States government now owns 5 billion dollars worth of surplus crops for which there are no cash customers.

It is costing the government 350 million dollars a year just to store the now nearly two billion bushels of surplus grains.

Just before adjournment in August, Congress increased the government's lending authority from 10 to 12 billion dollars to finance loans against this year's crop surpluses put under price supports. Still more billions may be needed next year.

ALL THE HULLABALOO over whether the government should have 100 per cent of parity or 90 per cent of parity or fixed or flexible price supports is regarded as largely insincere political shouting. Nothing was done to change the law last year and probably little will be done to change it next year.

The sad fact is that the extravagant 1952 campaign promises of the Republicans on what they were going to do to make over American agriculture are now beginning to bounce. The Eisenhower administration has discovered that its farm problem after the Korean war is the same one the Democrats faced after World War 2.

The GOP 83rd Congress did pass a flexible price support program aimed at helping to cut surpluses. But as applied so far there is no sign it is producing better answers than the Democrats offered. Secretly, some of the GOP farm policy makers would like to try the Brannan plan on a few crops. But they are afraid of the political consequences.

THIS WOULD MEAN letting farm prices seek their natural level, then taking the overproduction off the market at reduced prices. It might just possibly be cheaper than the present support price plan and customers might benefit.

Don Paarlberg, Secretary of Agriculture Benson's brain truster on farm economy, recently told a Massachusetts farmers' field day that things weren't so bad after all. His reasoning was that even though farm prices are down, per capita farm income is up because farm population has dropped.

Undersecretary True D. Morse tried a similar diversionary tactic by telling an Illinois farm picnic that things were better because taxes were lower, the dollar was sounder and destructive inflation had been stopped.

Neither fact is a palliative for low farm prices.

America can be thankful that it can produce more food and fiber than its people need. But so far, it has not been demonstrated that American politicians have found the way to live with these surpluses and consume them, instead of being consumed by them.

Mayor Is Lauded For Getting Site To Train Firemen

Mayor Frederick H. Stang recently received a letter of thanks and commendation from Fire Chief James M. Brett for the mayor's effort in obtaining use of a building at 32 East Pierpont street for fire training purposes.

Thanks was extended in behalf of the entire department as well as himself, Brett said, and he noted that use of the building enables "on-the-job fire training, for which there is no substitute."

It would cost the city many thousands of dollars if it were to build a structure for the same purpose, and he felt that use of the building, which was acquired from the housing authority, will aid in providing the city with a better trained fire department "and consequently will provide much better fire protection to citizens of the city."

Eggerman Held For Grand Jury On Ramos Charge

Fred Eggerman, 53, of Port Ewen, was arrested yesterday on a charge of attempted sodomy on complaint of Philip Ramos, 23, of 63 Green street, who was himself arrested last Sunday by Eggerman on a charge of assault third degree.

Mr. Eggerman, who operates the Eggerman Woven Label Factory in Port Ewen, was arraigned last night before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen, waived examination and was held for the grand jury.

A HEARING in the case of John Ramos, 21, of 298 Clinton avenue, who was arrested Sunday, Sept. 11, on a charge of petit larceny was also held before Judge Palen last night and Mr. Ramos was held for the grand jury. He was represented by Attorney Francis Martocci of Kingston.

The case of Philip Ramos, represented by Attorney Harry Gold, was adjourned by Judge Palen until 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Arrest of the two Ramos men followed an altercation in the Eggerman home about 2:30 a. m. last Sunday involving Mr. Eggerman and his father, Frederick Eggerman, and the two Ramoses, according to the Ulster county sheriff's office.

IT WAS REPORTED that the Ramoses were visiting in the Eggerman home when a quarrel began, followed by fisticuffs in which Mr. Eggerman sustained a black eye and his father minor injuries.

At 2:25 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 11, the Port Ewen Fire Department was called to the Eggerman factory where a fire had apparently broken out in the storeroom.

When the fire department arrived at the scene Mr. Eggerman was found in some bushes in back of the factory apparently in a state of shock and was taken to Kingston Hospital in the emergency truck of the department.

Mr. Eggerman's physician said at the time that he was suffering from nervous shock as the result of Sunday's events.

forward to hear the verdict and then lowered his head and wept silently for several minutes. Decina wears a hearing aid.

He fingered a prayerbook that he had clutched in his hand all during the trial. Decina sat alone during the trial and seemed little moved by the testimony. He did not take the stand during the three-day trial.

This was the second time that the 33-year-old aircraft worker faced a jury on the criminal negligence charge. The first jury was deadlocked last June 24 after nine hours of deliberation.

The state claimed that Decina drove his car knowing that he suffered from a condition that might render him helpless at any time.

DECINA'S ATTORNEY claimed that the accident was an "act of God" and that Decina should not be sent to jail.

The four girls killed in the accident ranged from 6 to 11 years of age. They had just left school and were walking along the sidewalk when Decina's car jumped the curb, struck them and continued on into a store front. A fifth girl was injured but recovered. Decina was not injured.

Justice Ottaway said he would hear appeals in the case Sept. 26. He continued Decina's bail of $2,500.

number from that area will need to be transported before the end of the current school year.

RICKETSON'S ESTIMATE includes provisions for transporting without additional charge as many as 21 additional pupils beyond the number now being transported.

The Board made a historic move when they voted to provide transportation after practice sessions for members of athletic teams including football, basketball and baseball. Practically all other centralized districts in the state have this service it was noted. Boys in the rural areas of Saugerties have never enjoyed this service.

It was reported that a committee of the board consisting of Mrs. Agnes Schroeder, John Lowther, Mrs. Mary Lasher, Robert Herb, Henry Haeussler and Superintendent Grant D. Morse will travel to Syracuse on Thursday to inspect school buildings. Another committee will make a trip during the first week of October for a similar purpose.

Brett Says . . .

partment.

He said this precaution applied to dwellings too. He cautioned that no one should go to bed if there's a suspicious smell of smoke in the house. Often motorists or residents of a neighborhood will smell or see smoke for hours without reporting it, the chief pointed out.

"TIME IS OUR greatest ally. If we get the call quickly we can pretty nearly extinguish any fire."

Chief Brett said the "greatest enemy is the delayed alarm." Frequently, in reading about fire losses, there is a line included in the story about how people either tried to extinguish the fire themselves before calling the department or else delayed the call because they feared unfavorable publicity. He warned that such delay might often be disastrous.

Donald Burghers Will Leave Sunday for Reunion in Holland

Donald H. Burgher, advertising solicitor for The Freeman, and the girl he married 10 years ago while stationed at Treebeek, Holland, fly tomorrow afternoon by KLM Airlines for three weeks in Mrs. Burgher's homeland.

Incidentally, it is the first time either of them has been in the air. The plane departs from Idlewild Airport, New York city, at 1 p. m.

How do they feel about air travel? "I'm kind of anxious to see how it feels," says Don. His wife? Well, "She's not scared."

THEY ARRIVE in Amsterdam, Holland, 14 hours later—9:15 a. m. Holland time—after stops at Gander, Newfoundland, and Shannon, Ireland.

"I'd be jumping in my skin with excitement," your reporter commented, eliciting a smile from the husky and jovial Mr. Burgher. "My wife's got everything packed already!" he replied.

The Burghers, who reside at 295 Clifton avenue, hope to do a little touring during their stay although the purpose of the visit, of course, is to see Mrs. Burgher's family.

THEY WILL be met at the plane in Amsterdam by Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Richter, Mrs. Burgher's parents, and two of her nine brothers and sister—Soskia, 12, and Robby, seven. Incidentally, the Burghers havent seen Soskie since she was a year old.

From Amsterdam they will drive the length of Holland (about 120 miles) to the village of Treebeek where 10 years ago—or a little more—Sgt. Burgher, then company clerk for Headquarters Company, 116th Infantry, 29th Division, was stationed when he met and fell in love with Wilhelmina Richter.

THEY WERE MARRIED May 3, 1945—"twice," as Don puts it, by civil law and by church. The civil ceremony was in Heerleen and the religious rites at the Dutch Reformed Church in Treebeek, a village about the size of Saugerties.

Don returned to the United States on Oct. 18, 1945, and Mrs. Burgher joined him on Jan. 7, 1946.

Mrs. Burgher is immensely excited about seeing her people, naturally. It will be the first time in a decade except for a visit to this country by her mother for three months in 1949.

Don and "Mimy" (diminutive for Wilhelmina) plan to take some color movies while in Holland. They hope to see something of Mimy's native land, especially in the vicinity of the German border, revisiting some of the places where Sgt. Burgher was stationed during World War 2.

Oh, yes, and they want to bring back some Delft blue ware, some hand-carved wooden shoes, some Dutch records, some Dutch cigars, etc., etc.! But hold on! You're only allowed to bring back $300 worth, Don!

MRS. BURGHER will celebrate a birthday while there—October 7.

The Burghers will be driven to Idlewild Airport by their very good friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Burnett, owners of DeWitt Lake. The Burnetts will also pick them up when they return Sunday, Oct. 8.

Settlement . . .

ter prospect seemed unlikely for a man heretofore regarded as a French puppet and never fully accepted by his people.

The problem now is appointment of a regency council to guard the throne when the Sultan leaves. De Latour is caught in the middle between the desires of the French government, the Moroccan Nationalists and the French colonists.

Tension in Morocco was heightened just before de LaTour's departure by a bombing incident. A grenade, thrown from a passing taxi, exploded on the terrace of a cafe, injuring six Europeans.

SUCH INCIDENTS have been rare in recent weeks while negotiations appeared to be making progress. Further delays are feared by those who want to see violence quelled in the protectorate.

The reluctance of the sultan to depart, and the reluctance of his backers—who include French colonists and powerful native leaders—is hinged on fear of the return of the Nationalist former sultan, Mohammed Ben Youssef.

The French Colonists and Nationalists are equally concerned about the composition of the council which would take over on Moulay Arafa's departure. This council would have in its hands the ultimate solution to the situation unless it succumbs to outside pressures.

Two men appear to have accepted posts on the council. They are:

konen said Finland also attached great importance to this treaty, indicating he would agree to extension.

Bulganin, who has been absent from the busy Moscow scene for two days because of illness, commented that because of the current friendly relations between his country and Finland the Soviet government considers it possible to give up in advance its right to Porkkala, to give up its naval base there, and to withdraw its troops."

Case Is Adjourned On Robbery Charge

Lionel Coddington, 31, of 109 Hunter street, who was arrested at 12:38 a. m. today on a second degree robbery charge, was granted adjournment until September 19 when he appeared in City Court today. The adjournment was granted to permit Coddington to obtain counsel.

Coddington was arrested by Officers William Snyder and William Slover at 38 Broadway on the complaint of Theodore Hinkley, 49, who gave his address as a barge owned by the Reliance Marine Transportation and Construction Corporation, 615 Abeel street.

tions between representatives of the United States and Red China. The Chinese agreed to release at once 10 of 41 American civilians held. Twelve of the 41, not actually under arrest, are declared by the Chinese to be free to go when they choose. The other 19 may appeal to the British Charge D'Affaires in Peiping to help them get out.

Buol was captured at the Mengtze airstrip 140 miles south of Kunming in January 1950. He was a marine transport pilot in World War 2.

A CHINESE Communist spokesman charged in May 1954 that Buol was "assisting Chiang Kai-shek's brigands to wage civil war against the Chinese people."

Father Rigney told reporters yesterday that the Reds got him to admit he was a spy "according to their definition but not from an American standpoint."

"I said sure I had spied—from their point of view what I did was spying but not from an American standpoint. They accused me of being a State Department, intelligence or government agent, which I denied."

Rickett declared as soon as he crossed the border that he had spied for the United States in the Chinese civil war and is convinced the Americans used germ warfare in the Korean conflict.

He hailed the "lenient" treatment he had received at the hands of the Communists.

Flood Disaster

families who lost practically everything. For the first few days attention was given to emergency relief in the form of shelter, food, clothing and medical attention. Later the program for rehibilitation of families was undertaken and the work of re-establishing families and putting them in a position to resume normal living was taken up.

Local people were given credit for the manner in which they turned out to assist those in need. In Ellenville, hardest hit area, Miss Skidmore said the officials, police and private citizens had been most co-operative. In Ulster county a total of $5,963.29 was quickly donated to the emergency flood relief fund and small contributions are still coming in.

Red Cross expects the total cost of its program to approximate $10 million dollars in the eastern state area which was hard hit by flood.

IN HER REPORT Miss Skidmore told of the hardship which some families had suffered and the great need for assistance. One family, involving three children, is attempting to reestablish themselves temporarily in three rooms after loosing practically all of their personal belongings. Three families lost their homes completely and another family with 22 children was practically destitute. In all 38 families have registered for assistance in addition to those who were given emergency assistance.

Storm May Hit

general alert to keep advised of the storm's movements.

"THE PRINCIPAL idea is that we don't want people to get out of touch and be caught unawares by a dangerous storm," said Cecil Gentry, storm forecaster in the Miami Weather Bureau.

Gentry said the storm is still some distance from the coast and conditions can change radically, but because of the critical location and erratic behavior of Ione, the alert along the coast was justified.

Hurricane Hilda swept westward across the Yucatan peninsula and was expected to increase in size and intensity after entering the Gulf of Mexico a little north of Campeche.

HILDA ENTERED the gulf early today with highest winds estimated at 75 MPH near the center. It was moving toward the west northwest at from 10 to 12 miles an hour, a direction and pace it was expected to follow through the morning.

Despite its distance from the U. S. coast, it was expected to send tides rising on the lower Texas coast tonight.

Peiping Charges

the agreement. It said the U. S. version was that Red China should issue the invitation to Britain and that the United States should invite India.

Peiping insisted that the Red Chinese procedure should be followed.

It said that otherwise the operation of the agreement would be obstructed and added:

"Those desiring to return to their homeland are particularly eager."

(As announced jointly in Geneva, the agreement said only that India and Britain "will be invited to assist * * *" It did not say which country would be responsible for which invitations.)

Kiwanians Horse Show Set Tomorrow

The entire proceeds from the Ulster Kiwanis Horse Show scheduled for Sunday, will be devoted to the youth program of the community.

Events will begin at 10 a. m. and will extend through the afternoon. Refreshments will be served on the grounds during the day. The site of the show is the Chambers field in the town of Ulster just north of the city and opposite the Ulster Hose Company No. 5 firehouse.

THERE HAVE been entered a large number of horses in the various classes and trophies for the different classes have been donated. Judges will include Jack Hammond of Ilion, who is very well known in horse circles throughout the east.

The list of entries has been most encouraging and entered are horses which had been groomed for showing at the Ulster County Fair but were not displayed when the horse show was called off because of bad weather.

Included in the morning program are six events and the afternoon will include 13 events.

Kerr Asks Benson

statement late yesterday that the farm situation is a real problem but one which the Eisenhower administration inherited from previous Democratic regimes.

The agriculture secretary called for "serious, nonpartisan consideration" of the problem. Without naming names, he deplored efforts of persons who, he said, are trying to make a "political football" out of the growing spread between falling prices farmers are receiving for their products and rising prices they have to pay for goods they must buy.

Benson has promised some "very specific" legislative proposals for Congress next January, although they are not expected to involve the administration's controversial, basic shift from rigid to flexible farm price supports. Republican state chairmen agreed at a meeting here last week that declining farm prices are the biggest political barrier to the election of a GOP Congress next year.

Benson said yesterday, however, that he feels American agriculture is "basically sound," despite what he calls "the claims of the prophets of gloom and doom."

Sets Constitution Week

Mayor Frederick H. Stang today proclaimed the week of September 1 7to 23 as Constitution Week. In his proclamation, the mayor pointed out that this is the 168th anniversary of the Constitution of the United States and requested residents of the city to display the American flag during the observance.

Rebellion . . .

and its capital, the city of Cordoba.

A rebel radio station calling itself the "Force of Freedom" broadcast today from Cordoba. It ordered business to return to normal in Cordoba city.

The broadcast warned that anyone caught spreading false rumors "would be shot on the spot." It claimed the insurgents are not aligned with any political party and are not "the instrument of the ambition of anyone." It declared that "only God and the fatherland guide our steps."

LASHING OUT in the predawn hours today, troops loyal to Peron crushed two rebel strongholds. A government radio broadcast said:

"Important military troops which are advancing to suffocate rebel centers continue to progress with the support of military aviation."

There was no accurate estimate of casualties in the bitter fighting but the toll was expected to far outstrip the 300 to 400 dead and 1,000 wounded in the June 16 upheaval. The largest announced death count was at Eva Peron, the capital of Buenos Aires Province, where 80 policemen were reported killed.

The rebels early today claimed control of the central plains of Cordoba, the naval forces at sea, the big naval base of Puerto Belgrano and other isolated spots in the interior.

AIRBORNE loyalist troops were reported in action against rebel forces at Cordoba, the provincial capital and a city of 350,000 persons.

The rebels claimed yesterday Cordoba was "conquered again for God and fatherland." Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Videla Balaguer, described by the government radio as the leader of the rebellion, proclaimed a provincial government at Cordoba and blamed Peron for "many deaths."

Loyalist troops were flown to Cordoba and immediately engaged rebel forces in the city's main square, reports from the scene said.

THE FIRST major rebel defeat came at the Rio Santiago naval base in southern Argentina, where loyal airmen and ground troops rained bombs and artillery shells on anti-Peron forces. An official announcement said the revolutionary units there surrendered shortly before midnight after a day of furious fighting.

Another government announcement said a rebel garrison at Curuzu Cuatia fell early this morning and loyal troops were in pursuit of the rebels. Many prisoners were reported taken. Cuatia is a rail junction and airport town of 15,000 persons 325 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

THE FARM PRICE ISSUE

Though it is customary for politicians to announce what the issues will be in an election campaign, saying it doesn't make it so.

No one who is wholly candid with the public will pretend he can forecast with finality what matters will deeply concern the voters more than 12 months hence.

The most that can honestly be said this far ahead is that one party or the other has certain problems which may develop into decisive issues in 1956. For the Republicans, one of these is the general slide in farm prices and the consequent drop in crop-and-livestock income.

Such income has been declining for several years, indeed, long before the GOP took the White House in 1952. But since the farmers cannot now penalize the Democrats, the Republicans naturally fear they may be held accountable at the polls.

The figures on agricultural income are not in the realm of dispute. From time to time they have leveled off or turned slightly upward. But always they have resumed their descent.

It would be absurd to underestimate the political peril in this situation for any party in power. Evidence from the 1954 elections indicates that farm distress most certainly was translated into Democratic congressional victories in some areas. The impact, however, was not general.

But there are aspects of the farm situation which, at least temporarily, make it appear a good deal brighter than a superficial look at the generalized crop income figures would suggest.

For one thing, while net farm income from crops and stock has tumbled 30 per cent since 1947, farm population has fallen 19 per cent in the same period. This migration to the cities has softened the shock of the income decline for those who have stayed behind.

Second, many still on farms have found other sources of income to boost their annual earnings. In combination with the population factor, this development has caused total income of farmers on a per person basis to rise from $788 in 1947 to $918 in 1954.

Farmers have made the extra money by working in local factories, mines and shops, mostly in the off season, of course. The prospect is that their per capita earnings will hold up or even climb a bit in 1955.

There is no sign that these compensating factors leave farmers deliriously happy. They can hardly watch a steady fall in crop-and-livestock income without misgivings.

Nevertheless, these additional elements seem to have been overlooked by politicians of both parties. And they do make the picture considerably less grim than some of the orators have conceded. They might even determine whether or not the farm question really will be an important 1956 issue with the voters.

Dieting is a popular pursuit. Once started, everyone helps keep it that way by reminding you of it!

RUSSIAN NAVAL STRENGTH

Russia is catching up with us in naval strength according to Admiral Robert B. Carney, retiring Chief of Naval Operations. This growing power is especially serious in the Far East, but affects United States' strength everywhere.

Carney thinks that we should be strong in both the Atlantic and Pacific. At present our tonnage is sufficent only for one ocean making it necessary to shift ships from one to the other.

Possibly control of the air may some day make sea power relatively unimportant, but that day has not yet arrived. In bolstering the Air Force and providing strength for a standing army, the Defense Department has made serious cuts in the Navy's budget. Many military strategists agree with Carney that until the day comes when the Navy can be safely cut down, today's decreased Navy allowance may be too little too soon.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE A.F. OF L. AND THE "NEW LOOK"

The American Federation of Labor is apparently not a votary of fashion. It has not taken on the "New Look." At a time when so many of those who call themselves anti-Communist and anti-Marxist are catching the "Geneva Spirit," the American Federation of Labor courageously takes the position that principles are unaffected by shifting styles.

The Free Trade Union Committee is an organ of the American Federation of Labor. Its officers are George Meany, Honorary President, Matthew Woll, President, David Dubinsky, Vice-President, William Schnitzler, Honorary Secretary, Jay Lovestone, Executive Secretary. This body has probably done more to undermine Communist influences in European and Asiatic trade unions than any other group. It has been consistently anti-Communist.

It is this Committee which has given worldwide circulation to its rejection of the suggestion that "trade union delegations from Soviet Russia and other Iron Curtain countries" visit the United States "as guests of our free trade union movement."

On this subject, it states:

"The Executive Council of the A.F. of L. vigorously rejects all such invitations. They stem from Moscow to serve the interests of the Soviet dictatorship at home and abroad. A visit by an authoritative American trade union delegation to the U.S.S.R. would not bring the peoples of Russia and America closer. Such a visit would only play into the hands of the totalitarian dictatorship which, regardless of its apologies at Belgrade and smiles at Geneva, denies its own people all fundamental human rights. This regime cynically denies its working people the right of freedom of association and organization, the right to strike and the right of genuine collective bargaining enjoyed by the workers of all free countries."

This is similar to the position taken by William L. McGrath of the employer group of the American delegation to the 38th International Labor Conference at Geneva last June. He reported:

"The workers' delegations are supposed to represent free associations of workers, and the employers' delegations are supposed to represent free associations of employers."

Neither Russian employers nor employes are free men; they represent their government. They are controlled by their government. Therefore, the American employer delegates withdrew from four conference committees. Mr. McGrath said:

"I felt that positive action was imperative in order to emphasize the need for maintaining a stand, on principle, on behalf of preserving not only the tripartite structure of this organization but the very existence of the International Labour Organization. Do we want the I.L.O. to stay alive? Or do we want it destroyed by the Communists?"

Although officially the American Government is accepting the Russian "New Look," American labor, as represented by the American Federation of Labor, and this significant employer's group in the I.L.O insist that there cannot be and should not be a compromise on principle between free labor and slave labor, between free employers and representatives of a society in which every manager of enterprise is a government official.

The American Federation of Labor further says:

". . . We of the A.F. of L. are not going to be thus used and exploited by the Communist or by any other dictatorship. When the Nazis grabbed power in Germany and destroyed its trade unions and all other democratic institutions, we of the A.F. of L. refused to send good-will or study missions to that country. No American, or any other free trade union organization, ever sent such a mission to Fascist Italy or Falangist Spain. To have sent such missions to any of these dictatorships would have provided a cover of moral respectability and human decency to their totalitarian tyrants. To have sent such labor missions would . . . have shattered their faith in international labor solidarity and in the forces of freedom everywhere.

"None of us found it necessary to visit any of these totalitarian countries in order to find out what Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco want or whether they have a 'new look.' Everything we have said about the Nazi, Fascist, and Falangist totalitarian regimes holds with equal force for the Khrushchev regime in Russia. Merely because communism calls itself a proletarian dictatorship does not make it less warlike and less brutal or more democratic and more peaceful, than the Nazi, Fascist, and Falangist totalitarian regimes."

Whatever one may feel about the various countries included in this grouping, the fact stands clear that those who oppose state control of man cannot compromise their principles without losing their moral position.

INFANT DEATHS

Yesterday we were discussing the high death rate in infants less than one week old and the startling fact that more infants die during the first three days than in the other 362 days of their first year. What were some of the reasons for this high death rate in Chicago (and other cities) hospitals? An investigation was begun of this serious problem in 1950 and the following facts were uncovered.

1. Unsufficiently trained and unlicensed internes were entrusted with complicated deliveries for which they were not properly trained.
2. Excessive amounts of sedatives were administered.
3. There was improper treatment of threatened abortions.
4. There was failure to have early consultation as required by the rules and regulations when complications of labor developed.
5. Failure to use proper methods of resuscitation in delivery room.
6. Failure to provide immediate, adequate care for all infants in the nursery.
7. Failure to have sick infants seen and carefully examined early by the attending physician and a child specialist is required.
8. Excessive use of general inhalation anesthetics at the expense of the life of premature infants, particularly the smaller ones.
9. Failure to put the newborn premature infant immediately into a pre-warmed incubator and to provide immediate and proper transportation of the premature infant from the delivery room to the premature nursery.
10. Failure to observe the premature infant continuously in the nursery and failure to render proper care, leaving the care of premature infants to insufficiently trained residents and internes and nurses.
11. Failure to have immediate consultation with a baby specialist for all infants weighing less than 4½ pounds when necessary as required by regulations.
12. Failure to keep air passages clear at all times.

These are just a few of the many agents which can cause death in the newborn. We do not mean to alarm the expectant mother and yet it is necessary to draw attention to a tremendously serious matter. There are many factors having an influence on life and death with which we cannot deal but it is certainly up to all of us to cut down as much as humanly possible on those factors, such as the above, on which we can have an influence.

We should also keep in mind that too many newborn infants die because the already known necessary steps are not taken to keep them from dying. Complete investigations of all such cases should be made in order to find out the exact cause in each case so that steps can be taken to remedy the situation if possible.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington, (NEA)—A further drop in farm prices, while the cost of nearly everything else is going up, has caught the eye of the politicians.

The Democrats have announced that they will make a number one issue out of the plight of the farmer in 1956. They'll blame it all on the Republicans.

The Republicans, at their recent political school in Washington, seemed bothered by the prospect. The GOP attitude since 1952 has been that all their farm problems were inherited from the Democrats. But if farm prices are still down next year, this argument may be of doubtful value.

Non-partisan farm experts in the Department of Agriculture say the worst thing that can happen to the farm situation right now is to make a political issue of it. This is the advice of the necessarily anonymous civil servants who keep the government farm machinery running regardless of which political party is in power.

WHAT AGRICULTURE needs most is consideration as a bipartisan issue, as foreign policy is handled.

Basic to the whole problem is the simple fact that agricultural science has become too good and American farmers have become too efficient. The result is more production than is needed—more supply than demand—and falling prices.

On top of this, so many legal gimmicks, subsidies, benefits and artificial price supports have been put into farm law as incentives for still more production that agriculture is hardly distinguishable as a straight economic problem.

The United States government now owns 5 billion dollars worth of surplus crops for which there are no cash customers.

It is costing the government 350 million dollars a year just to store the now nearly two billion bushels of surplus grains.

Just before adjournment in August, Congress increased the government's lending authority from 10 to 12 billion dollars to finance loans against this year's crop surpluses put under price supports. Still more billions may be needed next year.

ALL THE HULLABALOO over whether the government should have 100 per cent of parity or 90 per cent of parity or fixed or flexible price supports is regarded as largely insincere political shouting. Nothing was done to change the law last year and probably little will be done to change it next year.

The sad fact is that the extravagant 1952 campaign promises of the Republicans on what they were going to do to make over American agriculture are now beginning to bounce. The Eisenhower administration has discovered that its farm problem after the Korean war is the same one the Democrats faced after World War 2.

The GOP 83rd Congress did pass a flexible price support program aimed at helping to cut surpluses. But as applied so far there is no sign it is producing better answers than the Democrats offered. Secretly, some of the GOP farm policy makers would like to try the Brannan plan on a few crops. But they are afraid of the political consequences.

THIS WOULD MEAN letting farm prices seek their natural level, then taking the overproduction off the market at reduced prices. It might just possibly be cheaper than the present support price plan and customers might benefit.

Don Paarlberg, Secretary of Agriculture Benson's brain truster on farm economy, recently told a Massachusetts farmers' field day that things weren't so bad after all. His reasoning was that even though farm prices are down, per capita farm income is up because farm population has dropped.

Undersecretary True D. Morse tried a similar diversionary tactic by telling an Illinois farm picnic that things were better because taxes were lower, the dollar was sounder and destructive inflation had been stopped.

Neither fact is a palliative for low farm prices.

America can be thankful that it can produce more food and fiber than its people need. But so far, it has not been demonstrated that American politicians have found the way to live with these surpluses and consume them, instead of being consumed by them.

Plaster Patching Advice Given

A certain amount of plaster patching becomes necessary in most homes, sooner or later. It can be done satisfactorily or not, depending on the method that is used.

DO—

Use a commercially-prepared patching plaster which is ready for use after mixing with water.

Be certain, in patching small cracks, that the plaster is pressed in thoroughly, using your thumb for the best results.

Handle larger breaks differently, removing all pieces of plaster that tend to come loose with a little prying, even if it means enlarging the broken area.

Undercut the edges of the space to be repaired — which means making the edges wider at the bottom than at the top.

Work the plaster into the hole with a putty knife; stop about an eighth of an inch from the surface; let it harden; apply more plaster and smooth level.

DON'T—

Attempt to plaster an entire wall or ceiling unless you have had some previous experience, since this is a job for a professional.

Forget that, in all plaster patching the area of repair must be wet down both before and after the job.

Mix more plaster than you can use, as it is useless and must be thrown away once it has begun to set.

Paint over a patched area until it is thoroughly dry and has been sealed with a coat of shellac or glue sizing.

Neglect cleaning the putty knife or other tools at once, otherwise it will be a tough job later on.

THE SWAN POINT

Designed for Economical Building

Rooms	Nine
Bedrooms	Five
Closets	Eleven
Cubage	28,700 ft.
Dimensions	43' x 28'

With overall measurements of 43'x28', "The Swan Point," can easily be built on a 65-foot lot. But, since this two-story house contains nine good sized rooms, you get plenty of living space when you build "The Swan Point."

For a distinctive, more attractive exterior, a combination cut stone and clapboard finish (as used in the illustration) is suggested. A modification of the early American or Garrison type house, "The Swan Point" has a second story overhang with ornamental "drops" adding an unusual decorative note.

Economical to construct, "The Swan Point" is ideally suited to northern climates and looks most attractive when built on sloping land. If you're looking for a house with lots of bedroom space, you needn't look any further! Because of the overhang, the second story of "The Swan Point" is larger in area than the first; there are five rooms on the second floor as compared to the four on the first. And, all the rooms on the second floor can be used as bedroom if you so desire.

The three windowed bay in the front wall and the massive fireplace in the right wall help to make the spacious living room very pleasing in appearance. Plan your living room decorative scheme around these features for the best and most attractive results.

Well lighted and ventilated by one large window in the back wall and another in the right wall, the dining room is a pleasant and conveniently located room. The door in the left wall, connecting directly with the modern kitchen, simplifies your task of serving meals in the dining room.

A section of the working counter in the kitchen, separates the breakfast area from the kitchen proper; this breakfast area is large enough to be used for all family meals.

There is cross ventilation and, of course, good lighting in all four bedrooms; the den, which can be used as the fifth bedroom, also is well lighted and ventilated for it has double windows in the back wall.

Both bedrooms in the left section of the house have a closet apiece while the master bedroom and the right back bedroom each have two closets. You should have no storage problems whatsoever if you built "The Swan Point" because, in addition to these bedroom closets, the second floor boasts a generous sized linen closet; a general purpose closet, opening on the hallway; and another one in the bathroom.

On the first floor there also is plenty of closet space; there is a coat closet opening on the central hallway, a broom closet in the front kitchen wall and a good sized china closet built into the left front corner of the dining room.

Since the laundry is located on the first floor of "The Swan Point," the heating plant is the only required basement installation; this should be placed under the living room. However, you will, no doubt find good use for the rest of the space in the basement.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for "The Swan Point," or any plan in this series can be obtained at moderate cost. To find out the exact price write to the Home of the Week, Inc., 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I., and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

To Trim Evergreens

The trimming of evergreen hedges should be done in late August or early September, so that the new growth will soon hide the bare spots and stubs. Late September or October pruning often leaves the hedges looking rather shabby during the winter.

Placing the Piano

Your piano should be placed where it looks attractive, and where conditions are right for its proper care. It should be placed in a room where the temperature is pretty constant—not too near windows or radiators where care and tone might suffer.

Stain Frequently Used In Finishing New Floor

As a finish for new floors or staircases, varnish, shellac, or a penetrating floor sealer if generally employed. Stain is frequently used on floors when a dark tone is desired. Where wood is open-grained, a paste filler the same color as the stain is needed. After its application, all excess filler has to be wiped off. When it is practicable, a final coating of wax is advantageous.

Treat New Paint Brush

Don't take a new brush out of its wrapper and put it directly into paint or enamel. When a new brush is put into oil paint or enamel without preliminary treatment, the paint pigment adheres to the bristle and is difficult to remove. If a new brush is treated with oil first, it is much easier to clean. For at least 12 hours before the brush is to be used, suspend it in linseed oil in such a way that the bristles do not rest on the bottom of the container.

Non-Fogging Mirror New Bath Feature

Among the new bathroom accessories shown at the recent National Plumbing and Heating Exposition in Chicago was a non-fogging mirror.

If hot water from shaving, a bath, or a shower steams up this mirror, the user merely presses a button and presto!—the mirror is clear. Or it will stay clear if the button is pressed before the steam can get on the mirror.

The button activates a thermostatic "blanket" behind the mirror which keeps the mirror heated to just above room temperature, thus preventing condensation or removing it if it does collect on the surface of the mirror. The unit is said to use only as much electricity as a 60-watt light bulb.

Another new bathroom accessory is a soap dish on a swivel, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. At a light touch, it revolves inward to be concealed by a panel flush with the wall. Thus the soap is protected from a shower and will not become soggy.

Another new accessory is a bathroom medicine cabinet with wing mirrors at either side that open at any position to permit the user to view himself or herself from any angle. The mirrors in the wings are actually doors of smaller cabinets which increase the available storage space.

Other accessories include chromium-plated grab bars, either horizontal, verticle, or L-shaped; grab bars combined with a soap tray; and towel bars for installation on the side of a lavatory or on the wall of a bathroom.

Test Lacquer on Glass For Coloring Properties

To test lacquer, varnish or shellac for coloring properties, pour a small quantity over clear glass. If it shows an amber color, it will darken any finish or impart its color to clear wood. If a clear protective coating is desired, it is best to use a water-white lacquer or bleached shellac.

Tillson, Sept. 17—Deputy Chief Harold A. Sanford of the Kingston Fire Department addressed the members of the Tillson Volunteer Fire Company at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the firehall. About 25 volunteer firemen were present.

Paint Applied to Brick Likely to Stay There.

After a brick house has been painted, it is pretty certain to stay that way. Once applied to brick, paint is practically impossible to remove, since it may penetrate as much as a quarter of an inch into the porous surface.

Chemicals strong enough to remove the paint would loosen the mortar and even then traces of the paint would remain.

Shokan

Shokan, Sept. 17—A painting job on the windows, doors and shutters of the local brick telephone central building, including the new addition, has been completed. Some grading was done in the rear of the lot and along the edges of the lawn and the new crushed stone parking place.

Lewis Davis, former KHS student of Ashokan is spending a part of his one month's army furlough at home. Lewis expects an overseas assignment following the expiration of his leave of absence around the first of October.

Edward M. Clark, North Woodstock, N. H., was an early morning caller here Tuesday while en route to Esopus. His home is not far from Laconia on Route 3. The Clark family operates a trading post and Edward on his combined pleasure and business trip was seeking one of those old player-pianos which are now a collectors item.

The Olive District 1 polling place which since waterworks days has been in the corner store building here, will henceforth he located in the American Legion hall at Ashokan. The District No. 1 voting place has been in Shokan for the past 75 years or more on account of this village's central location among the several communities on the east side of the Esopus creek.

Weekend callers in the village included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Deuel who have a summer bungalow on the old Chambers property at the Olive-Rochester town line in Samsonville. Mrs. Deuel, the former Helen Matland of Shokan, reports that her father, Thomas Matland, who operated the Shokan tavern several years, is not in good health at this time.

Mrs. Bernard Cacablanca and son, Vincent returned to Washington Heights Monday after having spent the summer at the family place here. The Casablancas plan to come up from the city weekends during the fall and winter months.

Having a birthday Tuesday, Sept. 20, is Donald North, younger son of Justus and Mary North. Donald before going to Schenectady was active in Reformed Church and Boy Scout circles here.

Police Seek Gunman

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Police today were seeking a gunman who last night shot and killed a 33-year-old man and critically wounded his woman companion in an east side tavern argument. Police said L. C. Rogers and Mrs. Betty Marie Bishop, 42, were standing at a bar when another man approached. A quarrel broke out and the man pulled a pistol and shot Rogers three times. Rogers fell dead and Mrs. Bishop rushed the gunman. He shot her twice in the chest.

Plaster Patching Advice Given

A certain amount of plaster patching becomes necessary in most homes, sooner or later. It can be done satisfactorily or not, depending on the method that is used.

DO—

Use a commercially-prepared patching plaster which is ready for use after mixing with water.

Be certain, in patching small cracks, that the plaster is pressed in thoroughly, using your thumb for the best results.

Handle larger breaks differently, removing all pieces of plaster that tend to come loose with a little prying, even if it means enlarging the broken area.

Undercut the edges of the space to be repaired — which means making the edges wider at the bottom than at the top.

Work the plaster into the hole with a putty knife; stop about an eighth of an inch from the surface; let it harden; apply more plaster and smooth level.

DON'T—

Attempt to plaster an entire wall or ceiling unless you have had some previous experience, since this is a job for a professional.

Forget that, in all plaster patching the area of repair must be wet down both before and after the job.

Mix more plaster than you can use, as it is useless and must be thrown away once it has begun to set.

Paint over a patched area until it is thoroughly dry and has been sealed with a coat of shellac or glue sizing.

Neglect cleaning the putty knife or other tools at once, otherwise it will be a tough job later on.

THE SWAN POINT

Designed for Economical Building

Rooms	Nine
Bedrooms	Five
Closets	Eleven
Cubage	28,700 ft.
Dimensions	43' x 28'

With overall measurements of 43'x28', "The Swan Point," can easily be built on a 65-foot lot. But, since this two-story house contains nine good sized rooms, you get plenty of living space when you build "The Swan Point."

For a distinctive, more attractive exterior, a combination cut stone and clapboard finish (as used in the illustration) is suggested. A modification of the early American or Garrison type house, "The Swan Point" has a second story overhang with ornamental "drops" adding an unusual decorative note.

Economical to construct, "The Swan Point" is ideally suited to northern climates and looks most attractive when built on sloping land. If you're looking for a house with lots of bedroom space, you needn't look any further! Because of the overhang, the second story of "The Swan Point" is larger in area than the first; there are five rooms on the second floor as compared to the four on the first. And, all the rooms on the second floor can be used as bedroom if you so desire.

The three windowed bay in the front wall and the massive fireplace in the right wall help to make the spacious living room very pleasing in appearance. Plan your living room decorative scheme around these features for the best and most attractive results.

Well lighted and ventilated by one large window in the back wall and another in the right wall, the dining room is a pleasant and conveniently located room. The door in the left wall, connecting directly with the modern kitchen, simplifies your task of serving meals in the dining room.

A section of the working counter in the kitchen, separates the breakfast area from the kitchen proper; this breakfast area is large enough to be used for all family meals.

There is cross ventilation and, of course, good lighting in all four bedrooms; the den, which can be used as the fifth bedroom, also is well lighted and ventilated for it has double windows in the back wall.

Both bedrooms in the left section of the house have a closet apiece while the master bedroom and the right back bedroom each have two closets. You should have no storage problems whatsoever if you built "The Swan Point" because, in addition to these bedroom closets, the second floor boasts a generous sized linen closet; a general purpose closet, opening on the hallway; and another one in the bathroom.

On the first floor there also is plenty of closet space; there is a coat closet opening on the central hallway, a broom closet in the front kitchen wall and a good sized china closet built into the left front corner of the dining room.

Since the laundry is located on the first floor of "The Swan Point," the heating plant is the only required basement installation; this should be placed under the living room. However, you will, no doubt find good use for the rest of the space in the basement.

Blueprints Available

Complete plans and specifications for "The Swan Point," or any plan in this series can be obtained at moderate cost. To find out the exact price write to the Home of the Week, Inc., 87 Weybosset street, Providence, R. I., and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope. At least one week should be allowed for a reply.

To Trim Evergreens

The trimming of evergreen hedges should be done in late August or early September, so that the new growth will soon hide the bare spots and stubs. Late September or October pruning often leaves the hedges looking rather shabby during the winter.

Placing the Piano

Your piano should be placed where it looks attractive, and where conditions are right for its proper care. It should be placed in a room where the temperature is pretty constant—not too near windows or radiators where care and tone might suffer.

Non-Fogging Mirror New Bath Feature

Among the new bathroom accessories shown at the recent National Plumbing and Heating Exposition in Chicago was a non-fogging mirror.

If hot water from shaving, a bath, or a shower steams up this mirror, the user merely presses a button and presto!—the mirror is clear. Or it will stay clear if the button is pressed before the steam can get on the mirror.

The button activates a thermostatic "blanket" behind the mirror which keeps the mirror heated to just above room temperature, thus preventing condensation or removing it if it does collect on the surface of the mirror. The unit is said to use only as much electricity as a 60-watt light bulb.

Another new bathroom accessory is a soap dish on a swivel, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau. At a light touch, it revolves inward to be concealed by a panel flush with the wall. Thus the soap is protected from a shower and will not become soggy.

Another new accessory is a bathroom medicine cabinet with wing mirrors at either side that open at any position to permit the user to view himself or herself from any angle. The mirrors in the wings are actually doors of smaller cabinets which increase the available storage space.

Other accessories include chromium-plated grab bars, either horizontal, verticle, or L-shaped; grab bars combined with a soap tray; and towel bars for installation on the side of a lavatory or on the wall of a bathroom.

Test Lacquer on Glass For Coloring Properties

To test lacquer, varnish or shellac for coloring properties, pour a small quantity over clear glass. If it shows an amber color, it will darken any finish or impart its color to clear wood. If a clear protective coating is desired, it is best to use a water-white lacquer or bleached shellac.

Plastic Cover Restyles The Outmoded Bathtub

Outmoded bathtubs can now be restyled — by simply using a plastic cover. It comes in various colors with contrasing ruffle trim, slips on and off readily over the tub top and, above all, hides the tub "feet" and old plumbing.

Garbage Disposal Unit

Properly installed food waste disposal units have no harmful effects on plumbing system, water consumption, or drainage pipes, the Housing and Home Finance Agency reports after a study of various units on the market. The tests were conducted by the National Bureau of Standards.

Stain Frequently Used In Finishing New Floor

As a finish for new floors or staircases, varnish, shellac, or a penetrating floor sealer if generally employed. Stain is frequently used on floors when a dark tone is desired. Where wood is open-grained, a paste filler the same color as the stain is needed. After its application, all excess filler has to be wiped off. When it is practicable, a final coating of wax is advantageous.

Treat New Paint Brush

Don't take a new brush out of its wrapper and put it directly into paint or enamel. When a new brush is put into oil paint or enamel without preliminary treatment, the paint pigment adheres to the bristle and is difficult to remove. If a new brush is treated with oil first, it is much easier to clean. For at least 12 hours before the brush is to be used, suspend it in linseed oil in such a way that the bristles do not rest on the bottom of the container.

Maroon Forward Wall Burke's Big Problem

Like most high school football coaches at this time of the year, Kingston's Bill Burke has a host of problems.

Burke's biggest one, as he readies his KHS eleven for the Friday night opener against Albany Christian Brothers Academy, is his offensive line.

The KHS mentor grants that his front wall candidates have, as a group, plenty of size. But the important thing lacking, also as a group, is experience.

BURKE HAS the horses in the backfield. However, it's a football axiom that good backs are useless without an equally good or better line.

Noting that his squad of 57 has had only limited scrimmage thus far, Burke declares that "the offense just hasn't jelled yet."

However, lack of up-front experience doesn't keep Burke from calling his squad a "promising one."

Burke termed his team a "pretty good one." He praised the team's spirit and its industry. Of the 40 original candidates, only one has left the team, and 18 others have joined.

The line has only two '54 veterans returning, plus a few reserves. The backfield is more of an experienced combination.

"From a defensive standpoint, we look pretty good," Burke declared. "But that phase of football is always more instinctive than offense. Both our first and second lines have shown equally well on defense."

The line personnel picture is slowly taking shape, with most of the starting positions—for the first game, at least—nailed down.

Pete Blanschan, 195 pounds, is back at center. All-DUSO performer Alo Saluste will be the left guard. The other guard post is a tossup between George Stefano, Andy Lee and Dave Christiana. The four guards named average 175 pounds.

THE BIG BOY of the team, 238-pound Gene Nagele, is set for one tackle position. It's between Lee Kias (187), Tony Koenig (180), Marv Schaub (180), Fairley (197) and Bob Sember (180) for the other. Nagele will do the kicking off and extra point tries.

The first string ends at the moment are a pair of plus-six-footers, Al Long and Bob Johnson.

Kingston's backfield is set—Dick Richards at quarter, Ronnie Ashdown at left half, Jim "Junior" Jackson at right half and Neil Keyser at full. Bob Manello will see service as a defensive regular. Bob Smith is expected to be used for plenty of halfback duty. Likewise with Larry Johnson at fullback.

Richards, who weighs 165 pounds, should give the split T offense some passing teeth. He had a good record as a jayvee thrower.

Ashdown, small by grid standards at 140, keeps in one piece by virtue of his speed and shiftiness. He'll also do the punting.

Jackson is the speedboy of the quartet. "Junior" is a tough boy to catch once he's in the secondary. He weights in at 170.

Keyser is expected to provide the power. At 180 pounds, he's big enough for off-tackle or up-the-middle attempts. The bull-necked boy is also a good linebacker.

Burke expects to do little platooning in the first game. Most players will go both ways.

Knox Stars As UCLA Routs Texas A&M, 21-0

By ED CORRIGAN
Of the Associated Press

Ronnie Knox, a 19-year-old sharpshooter, has played exactly one game of college football, but he's already being plugged as one of the Pacific Coast's great backs.

In fact, even before he tossed three touchdown passes in UCLA's opening 21-0 victory over Texas A&M last night in Los Angeles, Knox was a "known" unknown quantity.

He had starred at three different high schools, then enrolled at California, only to withdraw and pop up at UCLA, rated the No. 1 football team in the country in the pre-season poll of sports writers and sportscasters by the Associated Press.

A crowd of 65,334 watched the veteran-packed forces of Coach Red Sanders run all over the youthful Aggies.

But it was Knox who drew the plaudits. In the second period, he pitched touchdown passes to Johnny Hermann (25 yards), and Chuck Holloway (9 yards), and in the third quarter, he pitched to Jim Decker (23 yards).

A scattering of other games were played last night. Drake defeated North Dakota State 28-6 and Davidson turned back Catawba 26-0 in the most important.

The top game on today's schedule sends Miami against Georgia Tech at Atlanta in the opener of a day-night doubleheader. It will be the first college football game ever televised nationally in color (NBC, 2:30 p. m., EST).

The night half of the twin-bill will send Mississippi against Georgia.

Maryland, looking ahead to its clash with UCLA next week, has a warmup against Missouri.

Harvie Favored

Ward, Hyndman in Finals Of Amateur Golf Tourney

Richmond, Va., Sept. 17 (AP)—For nearly a week Harvie Ward has endured the pressure that Bobby Jones used to know when he was playing in the National Amateur golf tournament. Like Bobby, Harvie has reacted like a champion.

Today the pressure still was on the personable, 29-year-old San Francisco automobile salesman rather than on tall, greying almost-40 William Hyndman III of Philadelhia as they met in the finals of the 55th National Amateur.

You might think it would be the other way, but look:

Ward has tried for the title every year since 1947. He made the quarter-finals then and the fifth round in 1950. He's been the favorite here from the start—hailed as the world's best amateur golfer and idolized by the big galleries at the James River course of the Country Club of Virginia. Every one of his opponents was bearing down.

Hyndman, the outsider who has had a wealth of golfing experience, was virtually ignored until he began knocking off favorites. He was pleased as a new parent when he reached the quarter finals because that meant he'll get to play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga. even if he loses, Bill has had his day of glory. He's tired. His feet are painful after a couple of 36-hole days, but he's happy and relaxed.

Even little Bill Booe of Bridgeport, Conn., a nonentity in big time golf until this week, put the pressure on Ward in yesterday's semi-finals. He scrambled, sank pressure putts and scored and carried Harvie to the 34th green before yielding, 4 and 2. Millman Robbins, who had been expected to do well, collapsed in front of Hyndman's steady play. The Philadelphia insurance man had a fairly easy 4 and 3 victory.

Booe had a morning 72 and was only five over before he picked up on the 34th. Ward didn't have a birdie until the 27th.

Robbins, a highly regarded young golfer, couldn't do anything right until the third nine, where he suddenly cut Hydnman's margin from six up to three. He was 10 over par for 33 holes.

New Linebackers Give Army Defense Authoritative Look

West Point—A new crop of linebackers are giving the Army football defenses an authoritative look as the Cadets move into the last week of pre-season practice.

A major weakness throughout the 1954 season, the mediocre play of the linebackers, was largely responsible for the two setbacks at the hands of South Carolina and Navy in the first and last games of the season.

During spring practice and the early weeks of pre-season drills, the linebacking situation continued to be sub-par. However, the constantly improving play of Darrold Erickson and Stan Slater has given the Cadet defenses a much sturdier appearance of late.

MOVING IN AT center, Erickson, a second classman from Sioux Falls, S. D., has shown fine mobility and combativeness behind the line. Lack of experience is a handicap. He played at both end and tackle last fall and not enough of either to win a letter.

This is Slater's first varsity season following an outstanding year with the Plebes. An 18-year-old from Orange, N. J., he is considered a real "find" by the coaching staff. A guard on offense, he figures to be the only yearling in the starting lineup when the Cadets open with Furman on Sept. 24.

The combined progress of this pair moves the line ahead of its predecessor in over-all efficiency.

Returning from last year are Art Johnson, end; Ralph Chesnauskas, an all east guard now holding forth at tackle; guard Flay Goodwin; and tackle Dick Stephenson. Dave Thomas, a JV performer most of the '54 season, looks like the best of the crop to replace Don Holleder, all-American end turned quarterback.

Ryff Scores Win Over Lopes

Detroit, Sept. 17 (AP)—Frankie Ryff appears to have the guns for an eventual title shot against lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, but the big question is whether his eyes can stand any more punishment.

The 23-year-old New Yorker, boxing "Rookie of the Year" in 1954, suffered a nasty gash over his left eye last night while breezing to a unanimous 10-round decision over Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., in a nationally-televised bout from Olympia Stadium.

The cut matches an ugly scar over Ryff's right eye, sustained in an earlier fight.

"He gets cut in practically all his fights," said trainer Dan Florio, who did a masterful job in keeping Ryff's left lid under control last night.

Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions has thrown 103 touchdown passes in seven seasons in the National Football League.

Just a mild beer at an Officers' Club to quench a mid-summer thirst could cost Army a successful season . . . because that's why starting halfback Mike Ziegler was derricked until December . . . Happened at Fort Benning, same place Don Holleder made a phone call while on duty and was junked for the first two games last year . . . Only a dignitary who rates an 18-gun salute could lift the ban on Ziegler . . .

A veteran Detroit player is heading for a change in uniform . . . because of the dissuading influence he has on Bucky Harris' Kiddie Kar brigade. . . . They're afraid he may show them how to live it up. . . .

Maybe Frank Lane won't be general managing the White Sox next year . . . but already he's planning the '56 buildup . . . and insists the Chisox are set except for a couple of pitchers and third base, where "George Kell talks like he's going to retire." . . . More Lane quotes: "Marty Marion is the manager of the year, win or lose . . . he's tough psychologically . . . we had a veteran pitcher who late last season asked Marty if he could go barnstorming . . . he'd been having trouble with his legs, couldn't even run in the outfield. . . . Marty asked him, 'Do you think you ought to go?' Player was forced to admit, 'Why, no.'" . . .

Canada's football Big Four due to bust after this season . . . with Toronto and Montreal already casting secret lures to get into the National Football League. . . .

Story behind the news: "Halfback Hugh McElhenny of the 49ers is flying to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore for treatment of his injured ankle." . . . Phone rang at 2 a. m. in the Manhattan apartment of Dr. Sidney Gaynor, bone specialist and Yankee team physician. . . . "Hullo, San Francisco calling. . . . This is Bill O'Grady, the 49ers' doctor. McElhenny's hurt. Coach Red Strader has been telling me what a great friend of yours he is and what a fine physician you are and what a marvelous job you do with athletes. . . . Say, can you tell me the name of that specialist in Baltimore, so we can send Hugh there?" . . .

After seeing those pictures of Archie Moore wearing a skipper's cap, Manager Al Weill has donned admiral's plumage, too. . . .

The Indians' southpaw half of their relieving corps, Don Mossi, was more prized as a 6-2, 195-pound T-formation quarterback in his northern California high school days. . . . Puzzles us how they managed to pry open silent Don's mouth long enough to bark signals. . . . Indian official once congratulated him after a game, "Nice going, Don." . . . Mossi split a grin and burst out, "Thanks." . . . "Don't be a blabbermouth," cautioned the Indian official. . . .

The only reason the New York grid Giants don't have halfback Ted Wegert, the Philadelphia Eagle find, is that they wouldn't pay his way to training camp in Oregon. . . . The Long Islander never went to college or even finished high school. . . .

Rocky Marciano to us: "You think it's strange that after the Charles fight, when I was full of blood, I should have asked about that cut you got playing ping pong with me. . . . Well, once the fight is over, my mind is off it and I'm concerned with all the little things in my personal life." . . .

Note from Bob Cooke, sports editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, which has just changed the color of its sports section to green newsprint: "Now I only lack one thing: the long green." . . .

Between you'n'me, what a tennis tour you'd have if you could line up Tony Trabert, Pancho Gonzales, Frank Sedgman and Lew Hoad for a slam-bang series! . . .

The patent for the big home run still belongs to the New York Yankees.

And combining that talent with the unexpected help of Detroit's Steve Gromek, the starter-turned-reliever, the Yanks are back in first place again in that treacherous American League pennant race.

A one-out homer by Hank Bauer drew the Yankees even with Boston in the ninth inning last night and after Ellis Kinder, the Red Sox relief marvel, got the second out, Yogi Berra rapped a shot into the right field stands to win it 5-4. It was Yogi's 27th of the year and his second of the game.

UNTIL THE NINTH, Kinder had been tagged for only two home runs all season.

Gromek, meanwhile, toppled Cleveland out of the lead with three-hit pitching in six innings of relief as Detroit won 3-0.

New York took over by two percentage points. The Yanks also gained a one-game edge in the all-important "lost" column. New York has won 89 and lost 56, with nine games remaining. Cleveland, with seven left, is 90-57.

Chicago's White Sox practically fell out of the fight taking 13-7 thrashing at Kansas City.

Boston played to the hilt the "spoiler" role it shares with Detroit. A three-run surge chased starter Whitey Ford in the eighth and gave the Red Sox a 4-3 advantage. But then, in a twinkling, it was all over.

Bauer connected on a 1-1 pitch off Kinder, who by baseball standards should be drawing social security. The 41-year-old righthander fed Berra a fast ball and Yogi gobbled it up.

IN THE PROCESS of claiming the lead for the first time since Aug. 30, the Yankees lost Mickey Mantle, who leads the league with 37 homers. He pulled a muscle in his right thigh beating out a bunt against Boston starter Frank Sullivan in the second inning.

Reliefer Jim Konstanty, although giving up a pinch double to Faye Throneberry that scored the lead run in the eighth, held on for his seventh victory. Kinder, meanwhile, lost his fourth straight.

The Tigers called on Gromek, who had failed in his last 12 starts, when Billy Hoeft pulled a tendon on the last pitch of the third inning. Gromek, a 35-year-old righthander traded to Detroit by the Indians in 1953, then went to work, striking out four as the Indians wound up with just four hits.

Gromek ended it by fanning pich-hitter Ralph Kiner with two out and two on in the ninth.

Early Wynn (16-11) was the loser. Earl Torgesson broke up a scoreless duel with a two-run single in the seventh. An inning later, Ray Boone—another ex-Indian—doubled and scored on Bill Tuttle's single.

In the other AL action, last-place Baltimore swept a pair from Washington—the only club with an edge over Cleveland—5-4 and 8-7.

The National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers beat New York 4-3 as Gil Hodges homered twice. Willie Mays hit one for the Giants to claim the major league lead with 46.

ROBIN ROBERTS won his 23rd as Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 8-1. The Bucs' Dick Groat homered, breaking the major league one-season record. The National, which set the old mark with 1,197 in '53, now has 1,206 home runs.

Milwaukee practically cinched second place, beating St. Louis 9-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Recreation's Andy Murphy-- Big Man in Job's Growth

By CHUCK NORD
(Freeman Sports Staff)

RECREATION SUPERVISOR—The above photo might indicate that Andy Murphy's present job ties him to his desk. It doesn't, by a long shot. Andy's travels take him to all parts of the city at any given hour. (Freeman photo)

Should your initial acquaintance with Andy Murphy be through a telephone conversation, as mine was, you're a bit surprised the first time you see the Kingston Department of Recreation superintendent in the flesh.

The Murphy voice transmitted by the late Mr. Bell's apparatus is a high-pitched, slightly nasal yet pleasant one—something like a teenager's.

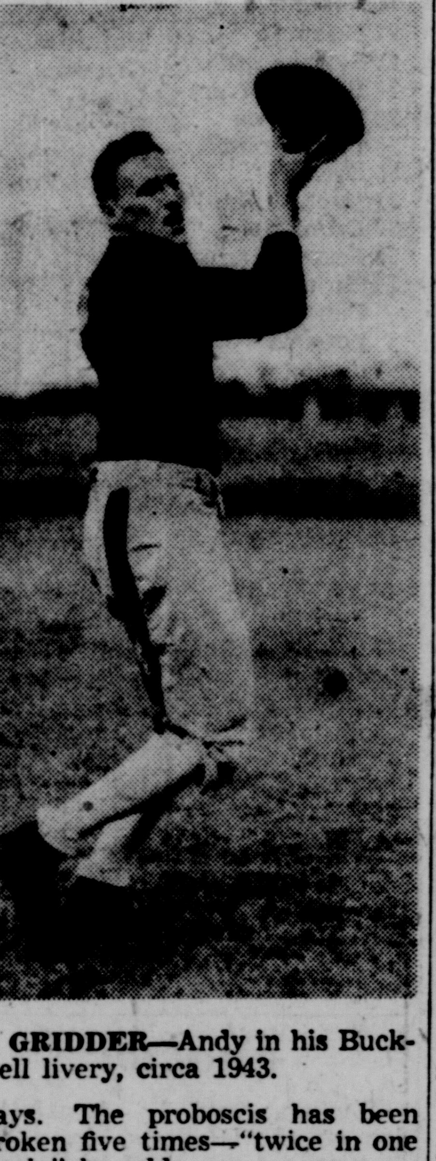
One is totally unprepared, a few days later, to behold a barrel-chested giant lumbering in The Freeman's sports department.

That's Andy. Or, to be more formal, Andrew J. Murphy III, this city's recreation head since May 3, 1948, and the main reason behind that department's phenomenal growth.

THIS IS the story of Andy (or A.J. or Murph, he answers to 'em all), local and college athlete, World War 2 marine and recreation supervisor.

Andy, a Kingston native, will be 34 next month. As mentioned above, he's a broth of a lad, standing six-one-and-one-half, weighing 238 pounds. The poundage is about 35 more than when he was cavorting on Bucknell University's gridiron during the war years. Murphy claims a chest circumference of 48 inches; it looks even bigger.

The outstanding characteristic of the Murphy physiognomy is the nose, which got a rough going-over during Andy's football days. The proboscis has been broken five times—"twice in one week," he adds.



GRIDDER—Andy in his Bucknell livery, circa 1943.

Andy was a three-letterman at Kingston High School, from which he graduated in 1939. He was an end in football, a guard in basketball and a weight thrower on the track squad.

Murphy didn't participate in sports until his junior year. The reason, strange as it may now seem, was lack of size. He made the football varsity as a senior and earned a second team All-DUSO rating.

BASKETBALL that winter provided him with what he still rates as his biggest thrill in sports.

Kingston had just had its 25-game winning streak ended by Liberty. Poughkeepsie was the next foe and the Blues, to the surprise of many, were 10 points to the good as the last quarter began at the municipal auditorium court.

"We were pretty desperate," Andy recalled. "I never could shoot from the outside, but I figured anything was worth trying. So I took a couple and made 'em both. I can still remember Coach Kias screaming 'No, no Murphy!' every time I shot. But I kept shooting and dropped in six straight buckets. We won by 37-34."

Andy didn't go right to college after high school. He spent a year in Memorial Hospital, New York city, to have a tumor removed from his throat. The hospital is one of his most unpleasant memories.

NOTRE DAME was the next stop. Andy paid his way there, but was eventually granted a football scholarship.

Murphy was a member of the same Irish freshman squad from which four players later gained All-America honors. He recalled quarterback Angelo Bertelli, one of his closest friends; halfback Creighton Miller, and guards Pat Filley and Bob McBride as those who gained national acclaim.

Andy also played freshman basketball at the South Bend school. He made the varsity grid squad as a sophomore but saw little game action.

"The practices under Frank Leahy were rugged enough," Andy says. "He's just what they say he is—a perfectionist. I don't think I could have played under a better coach than The Master."

During his junior year, Andy joined the marine reserves. That meant a transfer to Manhattan College in New York city, where he finished his third term.

Under the V-12 program, Andy was sent to Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa., where marine reserves underwent engineering training.

BUCKNELL was where Andy's football career came into its own. After the first game he was a regular at right end. The Bisons didn't have too good a year, but Murphy did. He was the country's leading ground-gainer among ends, and also shone on defense. Andy made 138 yards in five completions.

He wasn't allowed to complete the year at Bucknell. There was a war going on, and the marines were part of the big drive in the Pacific.

Murphy completed his marine training at Parris Island, North River and Quantico. He saw action in the mopping-up operation at Guadalcanal and was in the "big show" at Okinawa.

After Okinawa he was stationed at Guam, where, as a second lieutenant, he had charge of a war prisoner camp. Andy eventually got a first lieutenant's rating.

THE WAR didn't entirely interrupt Andy's athletic career. He played basketball on Guam and his team reached the Pacific Ocean area finals before being beaten. He and Bertelli, again together, had charge of a baseball team. Pee Wee Reese, now the Brooklyn Dodger captain, was a member of the squad.

After the war he returned to Manhattan to complete his requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree, which he received in 1947.

Before returning to Manhattan, however, Andy and his high school sweetheart, June Maurer, were married in the spring of 1946. The Murphys apparently are raising their own athletic squad. There's a quintet already—Andrea, 8; Sharon Lee, 7; Andrew J. IV, 5; Teri Ann, 4; and Mary Ann, 10 months.

He worked as a recreation director at the Wallkill prison for a year after getting his degree. Then he succeeded his present assistant, Harry L. Edson, as recreation superintendent.

How did he get interested in recreation work?

"PART OF MY JOB on Guadalcanal was being a recreation and morale officer. I decided I wasn't cut out for coaching or teaching classes, so recreation was the next thing."

Andy apparently believes in a big recreation program. He has increased the number of summertime recreation park directors from 12 to 21. The number of movies shown, the park facilities and the number of athletic teams under the department's auspices have all increased.

One of his biggest innovations has been the Kingston basketball tournament. Its two stagings to date have been smashing successes. The department also promoted Kingston's first college cage contest last winter.

The present city administration has given him plenty of help in increasing the program, Andy declares.

The task of improving the facilities is a never-ending one. The big need, Murphy says, is space for a winter program. The basketball teams are due to increase in number.

Another big lack is the want of trained personnel.

ANDY'S JOB, like any other, has its pros and cons. Among the advantages, according to A. J., is the amount of freedom present. "And I like the work," he notes.

On the negative side is the pay, which, though on the rise, still isn't up to the level of a school administrator's; and the hours, which are never-ending. Andy's working day begins around 9 in the morning and often he's still working over box scores of softball and basketball games until the wee small hours of the succeeding a. m.

The hours leave Andy with little time for hobbies. The nearest thing he has to a hobby is watching sports events, either on television or at the actual site of the contest. He also does a "lot of reading, mostly novels." Another outside activity is work with the American Legion Junior baseball squad.

Except as a football official and a softball player, Andy has given up actual participation in athletics. He was active after the war with the Kingston Athletic Association's semi-pro football team, on which he gained All-Hudson Valley honors, and with local basketball squads.

Andy is optimistic about the future. "I think the city is becoming more recreation-conscious," he declares.

And affable Andy is one of the big (sic) reasons.

Paint Applied to Brick Likely to Stay There.

After a brick house has been painted, it is pretty certain to stay that way. Once applied to brick, paint is practically impossible to remove, since it may penetrate as much as a quarter of an inch into the porous surface.

Chemicals strong enough to remove the paint would loosen the mortar and even then traces of the paint would remain.

Shokan

Shokan, Sept. 17—A painting job on the windows, doors and shutters of the local brick telephone central building, including the new addition, has been completed. Some grading was done in the rear of the lot and along the edges of the lawn and the new crushed stone parking place.

Lewis Davis, former KHS student of Ashokan is spending a part of his one month's army furlough at home. Lewis expects an overseas assignment following the expiration of his leave of absence around the first of October.

Edward M. Clark, North Woodstock, N. H., was an early morning caller here Tuesday while en route to Esopus. His home is not far from Laconia on Route 3. The Clark family operates a trading post and Edward on his combined pleasure and business trip was seeking one of those old player-pianos which are now a collectors item.

The Olive District 1 polling place which since waterworks days has been in the corner store building here, will henceforth he located in the American Legion hall at Ashokan. The District No. 1 voting place has been in Shokan for the past 75 years or more on account of this village's central location among the several communities on the east side of the Esopus creek.

Weekend callers in the village included Mr. and Mrs. Roy Deuel who have a summer bungalow on the old Chambers property at the Olive-Rochester town line in Samsonville. Mrs. Deuel, the former Helen Matland of Shokan, reports that her father, Thomas Matland, who operated the Shokan tavern several years, is not in good health at this time.

Mrs. Bernard Cacablanca and son, Vincent returned to Washington Heights Monday after having spent the summer at the family place here. The Casablancas plan to come up from the city weekends during the fall and winter months.

Having a birthday Tuesday, Sept. 20, is Donald North, younger son of Justus and Mary North. Donald before going to Schenectady was active in Reformed Church and Boy Scout circles here.

Police Seek Gunman

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 17 (AP)—Police today were seeking a gunman who last night shot and killed a 33-year-old man and critically wounded his woman companion in an east side tavern argument. Police said L. C. Rogers and Mrs. Betty Marie Bishop, 42, were standing at a bar when another man approached. A quarrel broke out and the man pulled a pistol and shot Rogers three times. Rogers fell dead and Mrs. Bishop rushed the gunman. He shot her twice in the chest.

Maroon Forward Wall Burke's Big Problem

Like most high school football coaches at this time of the year, Kingston's Bill Burke has a host of problems.

Burke's biggest one, as he readies his KHS eleven for the Friday night opener against Albany Christian Brothers Academy, is his offensive line.

The KHS mentor grants that his front wall candidates have, as a group, plenty of size. But the important thing lacking, also as a group, is experience.

BURKE HAS the horses in the backfield. However, it's a football axiom that good backs are useless without an equally good or better line.

Noting that his squad of 57 has had only limited scrimmage thus far, Burke declares that "the offense just hasn't jelled yet."

However, lack of up-front experience doesn't keep Burke from calling his squad a "promising one."

Burke termed his team a "pretty good one." He praised the team's spirit and its industry. Of the 40 original candidates, only one has left the team, and 18 others have joined.

The line has only two '54 veterans returning, plus a few reserves. The backfield is more of an experienced combination.

"From a defensive standpoint, we look pretty good," Burke declared. "But that phase of football is always more instinctive than offense. Both our first and second lines have shown equally well on defense."

The line personnel picture is slowly taking shape, with most of the starting positions—for the first game, at least—nailed down.

Pete Blanschan, 195 pounds, is back at center. All-DUSO performer Alo Saluste will be the left guard. The other guard post is a tossup between George Stefano, Andy Lee and Dave Christiana. The four guards named average 175 pounds.

THE BIG BOY of the team, 238-pound Gene Nagele, is set for one tackle position. It's between Lee Kias (187), Tony Koenig (180), Marv Schaub (180), Fairley (197) and Bob Sember (180) for the other. Nagele will do the kicking off and extra point tries.

The first string ends at the moment are a pair of plus-six-footers, Al Long and Bob Johnson.

Kingston's backfield is set—Dick Richards at quarter, Ronnie Ashdown at left half, Jim "Junior" Jackson at right half and Neil Keyser at full. Bob Manello will see service as a defensive regular. Bob Smith is expected to be used for plenty of halfback duty. Likewise with Larry Johnson at fullback.

Richards, who weighs 165 pounds, should give the split T offense some passing teeth. He had a good record as a jayvee thrower.

Ashdown, small by grid standards at 140, keeps in one piece by virtue of his speed and shiftiness. He'll also do the punting.

Jackson is the speedboy of the quartet. "Junior" is a tough boy to catch once he's in the secondary. He weights in at 170.

Keyser is expected to provide the power. At 180 pounds, he's big enough for off-tackle or up-the-middle attempts. The bull-necked boy is also a good linebacker.

Burke expects to do little platooning in the first game. Most players will go both ways.

Knox Stars As UCLA Routs Texas A&M, 21-0

By ED CORRIGAN
Of the Associated Press

Ronnie Knox, a 19-year-old sharpshooter, has played exactly one game of college football, but he's already being plugged as one of the Pacific Coast's great backs.

In fact, even before he tossed three touchdown passes in UCLA's opening 21-0 victory over Texas A&M last night in Los Angeles, Knox was a "known" unknown quantity.

He had starred at three different high schools, then enrolled at California, only to withdraw and pop up at UCLA, rated the No. 1 football team in the country in the pre-season poll of sports writers and sportscasters by the Associated Press.

A crowd of 65,334 watched the veteran-packed forces of Coach Red Sanders run all over the youthful Aggies.

But it was Knox who drew the plaudits. In the second period, he pitched touchdown passes to Johnny Hermann (25 yards), and Chuck Holloway (9 yards), and in the third quarter, he pitched to Jim Decker (23 yards).

A scattering of other games were played last night. Drake defeated North Dakota State 28-6 and Davidson turned back Catawba 26-0 in the most important.

The top game on today's schedule sends Miami against Georgia Tech at Atlanta in the opener of a day-night doubleheader. It will be the first college football game ever televised nationally in color (NBC, 2:30 p. m., EST).

The night half of the twin-bill will send Mississippi against Georgia.

Maryland, looking ahead to its clash with UCLA next week, has a warmup against Missouri.

Harvie Favored

Ward, Hyndman in Finals Of Amateur Golf Tourney

Richmond, Va., Sept. 17 (AP)—For nearly a week Harvie Ward has endured the pressure that Bobby Jones used to know when he was playing in the National Amateur golf tournament. Like Bobby, Harvie has reacted like a champion.

Today the pressure still was on the personable, 29-year-old San Francisco automobile salesman rather than on tall, greying almost-40 William Hyndman III of Philadelhia as they met in the finals of the 55th National Amateur.

You might think it would be the other way, but look:

Ward has tried for the title every year since 1947. He made the quarter-finals then and the fifth round in 1950. He's been the favorite here from the start—hailed as the world's best amateur golfer and idolized by the big galleries at the James River course of the Country Club of Virginia. Every one of his opponents was bearing down.

Hyndman, the outsider who has had a wealth of golfing experience, was virtually ignored until he began knocking off favorites. He was pleased as a new parent when he reached the quarter finals because that meant he'll get to play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga. even if he loses, Bill has had his day of glory. He's tired. His feet are painful after a couple of 36-hole days, but he's happy and relaxed.

Even little Bill Booe of Bridgeport, Conn., a nonentity in big time golf until this week, put the pressure on Ward in yesterday's semi-finals. He scrambled, sank pressure putts and scored and carried Harvie to the 34th green before yielding, 4 and 2. Millman Robbins, who had been expected to do well, collapsed in front of Hyndman's steady play. The Philadelphia insurance man had a fairly easy 4 and 3 victory.

Booe had a morning 72 and was only five over before he picked up on the 34th. Ward didn't have a birdie until the 27th.

Robbins, a highly regarded young golfer, couldn't do anything right until the third nine, where he suddenly cut Hydnman's margin from six up to three. He was 10 over par for 33 holes.

New Linebackers Give Army Defense Authoritative Look

West Point—A new crop of linebackers are giving the Army football defenses an authoritative look as the Cadets move into the last week of pre-season practice.

A major weakness throughout the 1954 season, the mediocre play of the linebackers, was largely responsible for the two setbacks at the hands of South Carolina and Navy in the first and last games of the season.

During spring practice and the early weeks of pre-season drills, the linebacking situation continued to be sub-par. However, the constantly improving play of Darrold Erickson and Stan Slater has given the Cadet defenses a much sturdier appearance of late.

MOVING IN AT center, Erickson, a second classman from Sioux Falls, S. D., has shown fine mobility and combativeness behind the line. Lack of experience is a handicap. He played at both end and tackle last fall and not enough of either to win a letter.

This is Slater's first varsity season following an outstanding year with the Plebes. An 18-year-old from Orange, N. J., he is considered a real "find" by the coaching staff. A guard on offense, he figures to be the only yearling in the starting lineup when the Cadets open with Furman on Sept. 24.

The combined progress of this pair moves the line ahead of its predecessor in over-all efficiency. Returning from last year are Art Johnson, end; Ralph Chesnauskas, an all east guard now holding forth at tackle; guard Flay Goodwin; and tackle Dick Stephenson. Dave Thomas, a JV performer most of the '54 season, looks like the best of the crop to replace Don Holleder, all-American end turned quarterback.

Ryff Scores Win Over Lopes

Detroit, Sept. 17 (AP)—Frankie Ryff appears to have the guns for an eventual title shot against lightweight champion Wallace (Bud) Smith, but the big question is whether his eyes can stand any more punishment.

The 23-year-old New Yorker, boxing "Rookie of the Year" in 1954, suffered a nasty gash over his left eye last night while breezing to a unanimous 10-round decision over Joey Lopes of Sacramento, Calif., in a nationally-televised bout from Olympia Stadium.

The cut matches an ugly scar over Ryff's right eye, sustained in an earlier fight.

"He gets cut in practically all his fights," said trainer Dan Florio, who did a masterful job in keeping Ryff's left lid under control last night.

Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions has thrown 103 touchdown passes in seven seasons in the National Football League.

Just a mild beer at an Officers' Club to quench a mid-summer thirst could cost Army a successful season . . . because that's why starting halfback Mike Ziegler was derricked until December . . . Happened at Fort Benning, same place Don Holleder made a phone call while on duty and was junked for the first two games last year . . . Only a dignitary who rates an 18-gun salute could lift the ban on Ziegler . . .

A veteran Detroit player is heading for a change in uniform . . . because of the dissuading influence he has on Bucky Harris' Kiddie Kar brigade. . . . They're afraid he may show them how to live it up. . . .

Maybe Frank Lane won't be general managing the White Sox next year . . . but already he's planning the '56 buildup . . . and insists the Chisox are set except for a couple of pitchers and third base, where "George Kell talks like he's going to retire." . . . More Lane quotes: "Marty Marion is the manager of the year, win or lose . . . he's tough psychologically . . . we had a veteran pitcher who late last season asked Marty if he could go barnstorming . . . he'd been having trouble with his legs, couldn't even run in the outfield. . . . Marty asked him, 'Do you think you ought to go?' Player was forced to admit, 'Why, no.'" . . .

Canada's football Big Four due to bust after this season . . . with Toronto and Montreal already casting secret lures to get into the National Football League. . . .

Story behind the news: "Halfback Hugh McElhenny of the 49ers is flying to Johns Hopkins in Baltimore for treatment of his injured ankle." . . . Phone rang at 2 a. m. in the Manhattan apartment of Dr. Sidney Gaynor, bone specialist and Yankee team physician. . . . "Hullo, San Francisco calling. . . . This is Bill O'Grady, the 49ers' doctor. McElhenny's hurt. Coach Red Strader has been telling me what a great friend of yours he is and what a fine physician you are and what a marvelous job you do with athletes. . . . Say, can you tell me the name of that specialist in Baltimore, so we can send Hugh there?" . . .

After seeing those pictures of Archie Moore wearing a skipper's cap, Manager Al Weill has donned admiral's plumage, too. . . .

The Indians' southpaw half of their relieving corps, Don Mossi, was more prized as a 6-2, 195-pound T-formation quarterback in his northern California high school days. . . . Puzzles us how they managed to pry open silent Don's mouth long enough to bark signals. . . . Indian official once congratulated him after a game, "Nice going, Don." . . . Mossi split a grin and burst out, "Thanks." . . . "Don't be a blabbermouth," cautioned the Indian official. . . .

The only reason the New York grid Giants don't have halfback Ted Wegert, the Philadelphia Eagle find, is that they wouldn't pay his way to training camp in Oregon. . . . The Long Islander never went to college or even finished high school. . . .

Rocky Marciano to us: "You think it's strange that after the Charles fight, when I was full of blood, I should have asked about that cut you got playing ping pong with me. . . . Well, once the fight is over, my mind is off it and I'm concerned with all the little things in my personal life." . . .

Note from Bob Cooke, sports editor of the New York Herald-Tribune, which has just changed the color of its sports section to green newsprint: "Now I only lack one thing: the long green." . . .

Between you'n'me, what a tennis tour you'd have if you could line up Tony Trabert, Pancho Gonzales, Frank Sedgman and Lew Hoad for a slam-bang series! . . .

Yanks Homer in Clutch, Return to League Lead

By ED WILKS
Of the Associated Press

The patent for the big home run still belongs to the New York Yankees.

And combining that talent with the unexpected help of Detroit's Steve Gromek, the starter-turned-reliever, the Yanks are back in first place again in that treacherous American League pennant race.

A one-out homer by Hank Bauer drew the Yankees even with Boston in the ninth inning last night and after Ellis Kinder, the Red Sox relief marvel, got the second out, Yogi Berra rapped a shot into the right field stands to win it 5-4. It was Yogi's 27th of the year and his second of the game.

UNTIL THE NINTH, Kinder had been tagged for only two home runs all season.

Gromek, meanwhile, toppled Cleveland out of the lead with three-hit pitching in six innings of relief as Detroit won 3-0.

New York took over by two percentage points. The Yanks also gained a one-game edge in the all-important "lost" column. New York has won 89 and lost 56, with nine games remaining. Cleveland, with seven left, is 90-57.

Chicago's White Sox practically fell out of the fight taking 13-7 thrashing at Kansas City.

Boston played to the hilt the "spoiler" role it shares with Detroit. A three-run surge chased starter Whitey Ford in the eighth and gave the Red Sox a 4-3 advantage. But then, in a twinkling, it was all over.

Bauer connected on a 1-1 pitch off Kinder, who by baseball standards should be drawing social security. The 41-year-old righthander fed Berra a fast ball and Yogi gobbled it up.

IN THE PROCESS of claiming the lead for the first time since Aug. 30, the Yankees lost Mickey Mantle, who leads the league with 37 homers. He pulled a muscle in his right thigh beating out a bunt against Boston starter Frank Sullivan in the second inning.

Reliefer Jim Konstanty, although giving up a pinch double to Faye Throneberry that scored the lead run in the eighth, held on for his seventh victory. Kinder, meanwhile, lost his fourth straight.

The Tigers called on Gromek, who had failed in his last 12 starts, when Billy Hoeft pulled a tendon on the last pitch of the third inning. Gromek, a 35-year-old righthander traded to Detroit by the Indians in 1953, then went to work, striking out four as the Indians wound up with just four hits.

Gromek ended it by fanning pich-hitter Ralph Kiner with two out and two on in the ninth.

Early Wynn (16-11) was the loser. Earl Torgesson broke up a scoreless duel with a two-run single in the seventh. An inning later, Ray Boone—another ex-Indian—doubled and scored on Bill Tuttle's single.

In the other AL action, last-place Baltimore swept a pair from Washington—the only club with an edge over Cleveland—5-4 and 8-7.

The National League champion Brooklyn Dodgers beat New York 4-3 as Gil Hodges homered twice. Willie Mays hit one for the Giants to claim the major league lead with 46.

ROBIN ROBERTS won his 23rd as Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 8-1. The Bucs' Dick Groat homered, breaking the major league one-season record. The National, which set the old mark with 1,197 in '53, now has 1,206 home runs.

Milwaukee practically cinched second place, beating St. Louis 9-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Recreation's Andy Murphy-- Big Man in Job's Growth

By CHUCK NORD
(Freeman Sports Staff)

RECREATION SUPERVISOR—The above photo might indicate that Andy Murphy's present job ties him to his desk. It doesn't, by a long shot. Andy's travels take him to all parts of the city at any given hour. (Freeman photo)

Should your initial acquaintance with Andy Murphy be through a telephone conversation, as mine was, you're a bit surprised the first time you see the Kingston Department of Recreation superintendent in the flesh.

The Murphy voice transmitted by the late Mr. Bell's apparatus is a high-pitched, slightly nasal yet pleasant one—something like a teenager's.

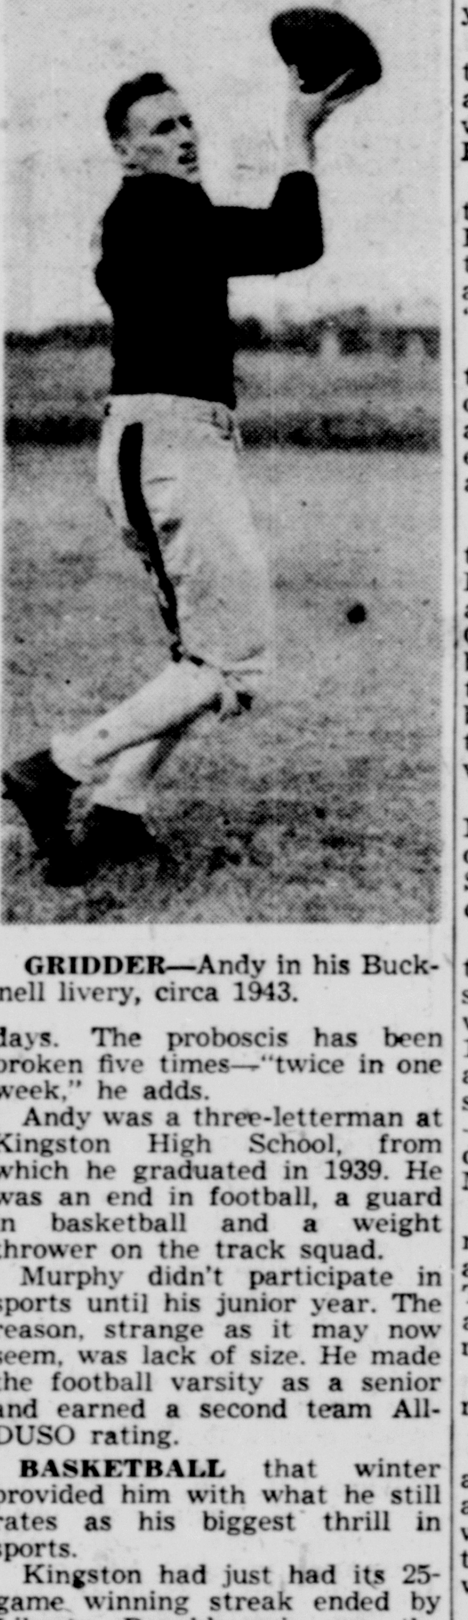
One is totally unprepared, a few days later, to behold a barrel-chested giant lumbering in The Freeman's sports department.

That's Andy. Or, to be more formal, Andrew J. Murphy III, this city's recreation head since May 3, 1948, and the main reason behind that department's phenomenal growth.

THIS IS the story of Andy (or A.J. or Murph, he answers to 'em all), local and college athlete, World War 2 marine and recreation supervisor.

Andy, a Kingston native, will be 34 next month. As mentioned above, he's a broth of a lad, standing six-one-and-one-half, weighing 238 pounds. The poundage is about 35 more than when he was cavorting on Bucknell University's gridiron during the war years. Murphy claims a chest circumference of 48 inches; it looks even bigger.

The outstanding characteristic of the Murphy physiognomy is the nose, which got a rough going-over during Andy's football days. The proboscis has been broken five times—"twice in one week," he adds.



GRIDDER—Andy in his Bucknell livery, circa 1943.

Andy was a three-letterman at Kingston High School, from which he graduated in 1939. He was an end in football, a guard in basketball and a weight thrower on the track squad.

Murphy didn't participate in sports until his junior year. The reason, strange as it may now seem, was lack of size. He made the football varsity as a senior and earned a second team All-DUSO rating.

BASKETBALL that winter provided him with what he still rates as his biggest thrill in sports.

Kingston had just had its 25-game winning streak ended by Liberty. Poughkeepsie was the next foe and the Blues, to the surprise of many, were 10 points to the good as the last quarter began at the municipal auditorium court.

"We were pretty desperate," Andy recalled. "I never could shoot from the outside, but I figured anything was worth trying. So I took a couple and made 'em both. I can still remember Coach Kias screaming 'No, no Murphy!' every time I shot. But I kept shooting and dropped in six straight buckets. We won by 37-34."

Andy didn't go right to college after high school. He spent a year in Memorial Hospital, New York city, to have a tumor removed from his throat. The hospital is one of his most unpleasant memories.

NOTRE DAME was the next stop. Andy paid his way there, but was eventually granted a football scholarship.

Murphy was a member of the same Irish freshman squad from which four players later gained All-America honors. He recalled quarterback Angelo Bertelli, one of his closest friends; halfback Creighton Miller, and guards Pat Filley and Bob McBride as those who gained national acclaim.

Andy also played freshman basketball at the South Bend school. He made the varsity grid squad as a sophomore but saw little game action.

"The practices under Frank Leahy were rugged enough," Andy says. "He's just what they say he is—a perfectionist. I don't think I could have played under a better coach than The Master."

During his junior year, Andy joined the marine reserves. That meant a transfer to Manhattan College in New York city, where he finished his third term.

Under the V-12 program, Andy was sent to Bucknell University in Lewisburg, Pa., where marine reserves underwent engineering training.

BUCKNELL was where Andy's football career came into its own. After the first game he was a regular at right end. The Bisons didn't have too good a year, but Murphy did. He was the country's leading ground-gainer among ends, and also shone on defense. Andy made 138 yards in five completions.

He wasn't allowed to complete the year at Bucknell. There was a war going on, and the marines were part of the big drive in the Pacific.

Murphy completed his marine training at Parris Island, North River and Quantico. He saw action in the mopping-up operation at Guadalcanal and was in the "big show" at Okinawa.

After Okinawa he was stationed at Guam, where, as a second lieutenant, he had charge of a war prisoner camp. Andy eventually got a first lieutenant's rating.

THE WAR didn't entirely interrupt Andy's athletic career. He played basketball on Guam and his team reached the Pacific Ocean area finals before being beaten. He and Bertelli, again together, had charge of a baseball team. Pee Wee Reese, now the Brooklyn Dodger captain, was a member of the squad.

After the war he returned to Manhattan to complete his requirements for a Bachelor of Science degree, which he received in 1947.

Before returning to Manhattan, however, Andy and his high school sweetheart, June Maurer, were married in the spring of 1946. The Murphys apparently are raising their own athletic squad. There's a quintet already—Andrea, 8; Sharon Lee, 7; Andrew J. IV, 5; Teri Ann, 4; and Mary Ann, 10 months.

He worked as a recreation director at the Wallkill prison for a year after getting his degree. Then he succeeded his present assistant, Harry L. Edson, as recreation superintendent.

How did he get interested in recreation work?

"PART OF MY JOB on Guadalcanal was being a recreation and morale officer. I decided I wasn't cut out for coaching or teaching classes, so recreation was the next thing."

Andy apparently believes in a big recreation program. He has increased the number of summertime recreation park directors from 12 to 21. The number of movies shown, the park facilities and the number of athletic teams under the department's auspices have all increased.

One of his biggest innovations has been the Kingston basketball tournament. Its two stagings to date have been smashing successes. The department also promoted Kingston's first college cage contest last winter.

The present city administration has given him plenty of help in increasing the program, Andy declares.

The task of improving the facilities is a never-ending one. The big need, Murphy says, is space for a winter program. The basketball teams are due to increase in number.

Another big lack is the want of trained personnel.

ANDY'S JOB, like any other, has its pros and cons. Among the advantages, according to A. J., is the amount of freedom present. "And I like the work," he notes.

On the negative side is the pay, which, though on the rise, still isn't up to the level of a school administrator's; and the hours, which are never-ending. Andy's working day begins around 9 in the morning and often he's still working over box scores of softball and basketball games until the wee small hours of the succeeding a. m.

The hours leave Andy with little time for hobbies. The nearest thing he has to a hobby is watching sports events, either on television or at the actual site of the contest. He also does a "lot of reading, mostly novels." Another outside activity is work with the American Legion Junior baseball squad.

Except as a football official and a softball player, Andy has given up actual participation in athletics. He was active after the war with the Kingston Athletic Association's semi-pro football team, on which he gained All-Hudson Valley honors, and with local basketball squads.

Andy is optimistic about the future. "I think the city is becoming more recreation-conscious," he declares.

And affable Andy is one of the big (sic) reasons.

BARBS

BY HAL COCHRAN

When you're set to flop back and take it easy on the beach, look out for that ol' sunburn.

We've always thought that hands across the sea were much better than hand-outs.

When the girl wore real long skirts it was hard to get on a bus.

Nowadays it's a cinch to get up stares.

Why We Say--

Sailors have a saying that people have two kinds of legs, "land legs" and "sea legs". What they mean by sea legs is actually a sense of balance which enables a person to walk on a rolling ship . . . The expression is also used to describe someone who is intoxicated and having difficulty in walking.

OFFICE CAT

Trade Mark Reg.

By Junius

To tell a falsehood is to inflict a wound, the scar of which will never be fully defaced.

* * *

Farmer (plowing with one mule) — Giddap, Pete! Giddap, Barney! Giddap, Johnny! Giddap, Tom!

Stranger — How many names does that mule have?

Farmer—Only one. His name is Pete, but he don't know his own strength, so I put blinders on 'im, yell a lot of names at 'im, and he thinks three other mules are helping 'im.

Woman driver to friend: "The part I don't like about parking is that noisy crash."

* * *

A mean man is one who has become deaf, but hasn't told his wife about it.—L. A. Wachlin in Satevepost.

A stranger, while traveling through Arizona, noticed the dry, dusty appearance of the country. He asked, Stranger—Doesn't it ever rain here?

Native—Rain? Rain? Why, say, pardner, there's frogs in this town over 10 years old that have not learned to swim yet.

A Pennsylvania judge was likewise cashier of a bank. A man presented a check one day for payment. He was a stranger. His evidence of identification was not satisfactory to the cashier.

Man—Why, Judge, I've known you to sentence men to be hanged on no better evidence than this!

Judge—Very likely. But when it comes to letting go of cold cash we have to be mighty careful.

* * *

People who wonder where this generation is headed would do well to consider where it came from.

The lawyer was getting nowhere in his questioning of the calm little woman in the witness-box and his irritation was getting out of hand.

Lawyer (bitingly)—You claim to have had no education, but yet you have answered my questions smartly enough.

Witness (meekly and unruffled)—You don't have to be educated to answer a lot of silly questions.

* * *

He—When we are married, dear, we must have a hyphenated name—it's so much smarter. What would go well with Eaton?

Small Brother (from behind davenport) How about "Moth?"

One good way not to push yourself ahead is to pat yourself on the back.

Why Experiment?

We have practically unlimited money available for Second Mortgages. Quickest mortgage service possible. In some instances loan is granted and mortgages recorded in 48 hours. Our service is an opportunity to consolidate existing debts, pay pressing bills, or to buy furniture, auto, and equipment, taking advantage of cash discounts. Our charges are moderate and the time for payment is extended to meet borrowers circumstances. This service is different from any other in the area and does not compete or conflict with banks, finance companies or other valuable deferred payment plans. No charge is made unless loan is granted. Pommiers' Rally Tops Subway, 6-3

Les Pommiers players came from behind Thursday night at Dietz Stadium to score a 6-3 win over the Subway Grill in the City Softball League's National Division Shaughnessy playoffs.

The win evened the final series at one game apiece. The rubber game is at Lower Hasbrouck tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

The Pommies trailed by 3-2 after five innings. But they rallied for three in the sixth and another in the final frame to sew up the win.

Fred Orr's home run and Mel Schlanger's three base knocks featured the Pommies' 13-hit attack off Al Hunt.

Joe Amato was the winner, allowing nine hits.

Senate Agriculture Committee, said he doesn't agree with Sparkman's observation that there doesn't seem to be any present danger of a collapse in the Soviet economy.

"I think they are in bad shape at home or they wouldn't be making friendly overtures to the West," Williams said. "I am not in favor of bailing them out regardless of how much we want to get rid of our surpluses."

Jenner, who like Williams was not among those visiting behind the Iron Curtain this year, said in a separate interview he fears that any consumer goods sent to Russia would merely give the Soviets more opportunity to expand war production.

"If we take the pressure off of them by giving them some so-called 'soft' goods, they will be able to put just that much more manpower into the production of the hardware for war," Jenner said.

Senate Agriculture Committee, said he doesn't agree with Sparkman's observation that there doesn't seem to be any present danger of a collapse in the Soviet economy.

"I think they are in bad shape at home or they wouldn't be making friendly overtures to the West," Williams said. "I am not in favor of bailing them out regardless of how much we want to get rid of our surpluses."

Jenner, who like Williams was not among those visiting behind the Iron Curtain this year, said in a separate interview he fears that any consumer goods sent to Russia would merely give the Soviets more opportunity to expand war production.

"If we take the pressure off of them by giving them some so-called 'soft' goods, they will be able to put just that much more manpower into the production of the hardware for war," Jenner said.
